High-Level Talks Slated On Vietnam

Gen. Westmoreland And Joint Chiefs To Oppose Bomb Lull

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland and the Joint Chiefs of Staff can be expected to stand fast against any new proposal for an extended pause in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The perennial bombing pause question is on the list of matters to be reviewed at this week's high-level conferences.

Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is due here Wednesday to join Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, in discussions with President Johnson and top officials of the Defense and State departments. Johnson meets with Bunker today.

Pentagon sources said there are no urgent issues at this time —nothing in the way of new troop increase requests or logistic or operational problems. The conferences were billed as a general review.

The meetings come at a time when the Johnson administration appears to be stressing the theme of "steady progress" in the Vietnam war.

Bunker used this phrase on his arrvial Friday from Saigon. High U.S. mliitary officials followed up with a similar line Saturday in talking to newsmen, although they did predict hard fighting in certain critical areas.

In other war-related developments:

—Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin said his recent trip to Vietnam convinced him the administration plans to keep forces in Southeast Asia for a long time.

Gavin, a persistent war policy critic, said the government pictures its purpose in Vietnam as resisting current aggression while in fact its policy is the long-term containment of Red China.

—California Gov. Ronald Reagan attacked Johnson's war policies, called for a clear policy decision on "whether we want to carry the war through to a conclusion, or give up" and said stopping U.S. bombing of the North "will only encourage the enemy to do his worst."

The Republican governor, speaking Saturday night in Albany, Ore., said U.S. war policy in Vietnam from the start "was a case of being too late with too little, while tipping our hand to the enemy so that he always knew in advance what we proposed..."

—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said in a Chicago speech, "The '68 elections will be a vote on Vietnam. It is clear the question will not be settled in the Senate or in Congress. We must take it back to the jury."

Withdraw After Brief Skirmishing

U.S. Troops Fire 105mm Howitzers To Hold Positions

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese army regulars charged at U.S. defenders near Dak To in the central highlands tonight but withdrew after two hours of heavy fighting. The Americans fired 105mm howitzers at point-blank range to hold their positions.

An official account from the scene said nine U.S. soldiers were killed and 25 others wounded, bringing the U.S. toll in 11 days of fighting in the area to 101 killed and 525 wounded. Red casualties in the fight were not immediately known. Before the fight their losses were more than 600 men killed.

There were reports the Communist forces had breached the U.S. defense perimeter at one point in the fighting and that paratroopers of the American 173rd Airborne Brigade were rushed in to drive them out.

AP correspondent John Lengel reported from the battle zone that the sharp new action came after a day of light skirmishes along the highlands battlefront. Earlier U.S. intelligence reports said the North Vietnamese had moved in reinforcements to bolster their ranks. The North Vietnamese force is believed to include a rocket regiment armed with 122mm projectiles.

Lengel reported the airborne brigade came under frontal assault after nightfall about six miles southwest of Dak To in what U.S. officials believe is an effort to score an "impact victory" to embarrass South Vietnam's new civilian-based government. But the Communists also may be seeking to keep open an important infiltration route into the South from Laos by knocking out U.S. defenses at Dak To, which straddles the route.

Earlier in the day U.S. forces launched fresh helicopter assaults against the five North Vietnamese regiments believed to be in the area.

The choppers rose to seek out the enemy after U.S. troops encamped in the area weathered

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Three U.S. Army sergeants released from Communist captivity in Vietnam left for Washington today after spending the night in Beirut. One repudiated antiwar statements he had made in Hanoi. Another stood behind his.

The three men—James E. Jackson of Talcott, W.Va., Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., and Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif. — were put aboard a Pan American airliner due in Washington at 10:30 p.m. EST after stops in Rome, Paris and New York.

The men were flown to Beirut Sunday from Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, aboard a Czechoslovak airliner after a ceremony Saturday at which they were turned over to Thomas Hayden, representing an American peace committee.

Hayden was traveling with them to the United States, Pan American said.

Sgt. Johnson, who was reported ill with dysentery and malnutrition, was quoted by the Beirut newspaper Al Bayrak as denying that he had been brainwashed and said: "I am going back to the war when duty calls me."

"I said what I said in Hanoi under pressure and I didn't mean any of it," he was quoted as saying. "I am an American, . . . I don't think my brain is so dirty that somebody has to wash it for me."

However, Al Bayrak said Pitzer told its reporter at the airport: "I meant everything I said in Hanoi. I am against war and I think the Americans made a mistake in getting involved in it."

Pitzer said in Phnom Penh that he was captured in October 1963 in Camau province, South Vietnam's southernmost province. But Melhem Karam, the editor of Al Bayrak and the president of the Lebanese Editors Association, said Pitzer told him his plane was hit while he was bombing North Vietnam, and that he bailed out and was captured.

Pitzer said he was well treated by his captors in North Vietnam.

Jackson said only that he was going on to Prague and then to meet his family in the United States.

Good Thing For Party, Lindsay Says

Gov. Rockefeller Prodded To Seek Presidential Bid

By The Associated Press

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has been prodded to seek the Republican presidential nomination. The youth arm of the Democratic party meanwhile seems headed for a rousing battle over the peace-in-Vietnam issue.

The New York governor's candidacy "would be a good thing for my party and the country," declared Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City.

Rockefeller's name was also on the mind of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who listed the New Yorker—and himself—with three others as potential candidates for the GOP nomination.

The political name-dropping occurred as a nationwide poll said that for the first time since November 1957 Republicans lead Democrats as the party most citizens believe can best handle the nation's prime problems.

About 1,500 delegates from 700 chapters of the Young Democratic Clubs of America meet in Hollywood, Fla., Wednesday. Several candidates for the organization's presidency support antiwar and propeace resolutions.

Meanwhile, delegates to the break-away Young College Democrat Clubs convention in Boston Sunday voted to support withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam, halting the bombing of North Vietnam and convening of peace talks with the Viet Cong.

But they rejected a resolution calling for the elimination of President Johnson from the 1968 Democratic ticket.

In an interview, Lindsay said Vietnam will figure heavily in the campaign and the Republican candidate "ought to offer an alternative to our present course of action."

He said his own present popularity in national polls has not caused him to harbor any ambition or hope of winning the nomination for himself. He listed Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois as another possible GOP candidate, praising him as a Republican progressive "in the best tradition of the party."

Nixon's list of potential candidates, offered in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, included Michigan Gov. George Romney, Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy and California Gov. Ronald Reagan as well as Rockefeller and himself.

London Theft Nets Robbers $2.8 Million

LONDON (AP,(— Thieves working all weekend with blow torches cleaned out the London headquarters of the national cooperative store chain and may have gotten away with as much as a million pounds—$2.8 million, police said today.

The headquarters in the Stratford section of East London is the depository for huge sums spent by Britons in the various co-ops operated as a giant chain store system.

The master safe and some deposit boxes were burned open and rifled, police said.

The raiders must have spent much of Saturday and Sunday using "thermal lances" which burn through metal slowly but silently.

Officials of the cooperative were unable to assess the loss immediately but a quick estimate put it at a million pounds.

Under the cooperative system, customers can buy an enormous variety of items, have their purchases listed in their stamps book and then receive discounts periodically. Many small communities as well as the big cities have co-op stores.

4 U.S. Navy Men Desert; Oppose War

TOKYO (AP) — Four U.S. Navy men from the 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Intrepid have deserted and asked for political asylum outside the United States because they oppose the war in Vietnam, the Japan Peace for Vietnam Committee said today.

It said a representative of "The American Peace Movement" came to Japan a week ago to confer with the sailors. The Japanese committee added that David Dellinger, an antiwar leader who helped organize the march on the Pentagon in Washington last month, had been informed of the defection.

A spokesman for the committee, which opposes the war, said the four were John M. Barilla, 20, airman; Richard D. Bailey, 19, airman; Michael A. Lindner, 19, airman apprentice, and Craig W. Anderson, 20, airman apprentice.

No home addresses were given.

The peace committee spokesman said the four discarded their uniforms upon landing at Yokosuka and have not reported back to the Navy.

"They left their aircraft carrier with a firm determination to oppose the Vietnam war," the spokesman added.

The U.S. Navy confirmed that the four were absent without leave after the Intrepid sailed from Yokosuka Oct. 25.

Japan Should Have Role In Vietnam, Sato Says

SEATTLE (AP — Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato declared Sunday that he believes Japan should play some sort of a "role" in Vietnam.

He did not spell out his meaning, but he termed the Vietnam war "an Asian problem," then added that it also is a world problem.

Without clearly explaining, the 66-year-old prime minister told newsmen here that "if I were to excessively commit my country to a military burden, then I should be subject to criticism."

The Japanese constitution, drawn up after World War II, prevents Japan from having any armed forces, save those for defense.

A Japanese official with Sato explained that the comment on military burden was a "purely hypothetical" statement and was not intended to be any sort of policy declaration. The official said there was "at present" no desire to change the defense provision in the constitution.

Sato plans to discuss both Vietnam and the return of Okinawa to Japanese control with President Johnson Tuesday and Wednesday in Washington, D.C.

In a news conference at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, Sato said all of the 11 Asian nations he visited in September and October "wished that some kind of solution could be reached to bring an end" to the Vietnam war.

His departure from Tokyo on a chartered jetliner was delayed for about 40 minutes when some 800 leftist students engaged police in a club-swinging, rock-throwing fracas. There were 215 policemen, 31 students and 8 bystanders injured and police arrested 333 in the demonstrations protesting Sato's visit to the U.S. and the fate of Okinawa.

Ronald D. Howard of 146 Denise Way, Weirton, was crushed beneath the wheels of a steel-laden rig operated by Howard Spencer, 37, of Youngstown, authorities said. The mishap was timed at 3:10.

Police said the youth apparently was hitchhiking along the Parkway and was believed to have attempted to jump onto the slow - moving rig about 100 feet west of the Banksville Interchange. He was one of five who lost their lives in Allegheny County traffic over the weekend.

Daryl Lee Jackson, 18, of 1068 Jennings Ave. took the witness stand this morning in his trial on a charge of traffic manslaughter in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

The second accident, about an hour after the first, resulted in the death of Jerry Canne, 17, formerly of 143 Thompson Ave., one of three passengers in Jackson's car.

All were East Liverpool High School seniors returning from a class party on the creek bank in the Grimms Bridge area.

The defense contends the steering was damaged in the first accident without Jackson being aware of it.

Jackson's car hit rocks and a tree about four - tenths of a mile downstream from Grimms Bridge. Young Canne died of a depressed fracture of the base of the skull before reaching the hospital.

Vietnam

10 hours of incoming Communist rockets and mortar rounds.

"There's every prospect of a truly significant victory," said Lt. Gen. William B. Rosson, the U.S. commander of the 2nd Corps area that encompasses the middle region of South Vietnam.

"The enemy gives every indication of staying. We couldn't ask for anything more opportune."

So far 635 North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed over the last 10 days. U.S. casualties stood at 92 killed and 500 wounded, the U.S. Command said.

In one clash today a U.S. reconnaissance team killed two men in a five-man enemy machine gun squad 3,000 yards from the Dak To airstrip.

The number of American and enemy casualties in today's skirmishing were not available but were said to be light.

The Dak To base camp, however, was bristling with activity. Big four-engine C130 transports roared onto the 5,000-yard airstrip at short intervals with more supplies and ammunition. Bare-backed U.S. gunners worked their howitzers against the ridges and mountains.

A military spokesman said an enemy force of unknown size assaulted the village of Dak Ranh under an umbrella of mortars before dawn. The militiamen defending the village lost their radio in the attack and had to send a runner to Dak To for reinforcements which didn't arrive until nearly five hours after the attack.

The Communists held the village for two hours and withdrew at daylight after inflicting light casualties on the defenders, military spokesmen said. One civilian also was killed.

U.S. intelligence officers say the North Vietnamese have rushed more troops to the Dak To area, apparently doubling their strength there, but the Reds made only three mortar attacks on U.S. positions in the area today.

Initial reports said two infantrymen were wounded.

American officers reported that two enemy regiments were shifted to Dak To from the Pleiku area, about 75 miles farther south, to give the North Vietnamese a fighting force of about 8,000 men around Dak To.

Some 5,000 or 6,000 American soldiers face the Communists on what became known as the second front—the first is below the demilitarized zone—after fierce, large-scale fighting erupted there Nov. 1.

The U.S. Command, revising its casualty figures, said 92 American and 635 North Vietnamese troops have been killed in the heavy fighting. Headquarters said 500 U.S. troops were wounded, but about half of them were treated at medical clearing stations and returned to duty.

An all-day battle Saturday was fought at such close quarters that 92 enemy bodies were found only 25 yards outside the U.S. defense perimeter.

Units of the 173rd Airborne Brigade reported killing 12 North Vietnamese troops Sunday in scattered contacts throughout the day in the same general area where the paratroopers fought the hard battle Saturday.

The paratroopers made sporadic contact several times Sunday with enemy troops entrenched in bunker complexes and called in artillery and air strikes on the Communist positions. One paratrooper was killed and 36 wounded.

More enemy attacks were expected.

Air Force B52 bombers kept after the North Vietnamese Sunday, saturating suspected Red defensive positions, infiltration routes and storage areas 15 miles southwest of Dak To with about 150,000 pounds of bombs.

The eight-engine Stratofortresses raided suspected enemy positions near the demilitarized zone Sunday night and today, hitting areas two and nine miles north of the U.S. Marine outpost at Con Thien.

Elsewhere in the ground war, a base camp of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division 74 miles northeast of Saigon was hit by 110 rounds of Communist mortar fire Sunday night, wounding 33 Americans.

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Post-Election Action

It is of interest to political observers — not to say taxpayers and voters who also do plenty of observing of politics — to note the strange cycles of activity which strike the processes of democratic legislation.

With the closing of the polls last Tuesday, for example, there was a remarkable surge of accomplishment by area solons, as they are termed in some journals.

While ballots were still being counted at Wellsville, a move to boost the Mayor's salary $1,000 and grant other pay raises was almost under emergency procedure which would have suspended separate readings.

Wednesday night at Midland, the borough's wage tax was increased to 1 per cent by Council which suddenly saw fit to seek funds to make up for anticipated losses from the machine tax due to a Court decision.

Salem's Council that same night approved first reading of an ordinance doubling the city's income tax, boosting it from one - half per cent to a full 1 per cent to meet the needs "specified and contemplated" by that august body.

The phenomenon of the post - election tax bite is part of the history of American government, not hard to explain to anyone familiar with the resistance of the average voter to dishing out more money or aware of the problem of elected officials trying to keep up with growing needs of the community, rising costs of operations.

In this atmosphere of tax hostility, few officials seeking voter support come out for more millage, higher percentages just before an election.

This goes for other governmental policies Councilmen may deem necessary, but of which the average voter might be critical, such as new traffic regulations, enforcement of building laws or revision of parking controls.

The legislative upmanship is also apparent at the state and federal level.

However, the action is less of a commentary upon the legislative attitude than upon the voters, for here is in most cases not a sneaky means of governmental operation, but a managed delay technique so as not to upset the campaign applecart, spilling a Delicious or Mctosh an opponent could seize and toss right in an incumbent's face. One simply doesn't manufacture issues for a political foe, one doesn't irritate the ballot potential among people who tend to oversimplify "taxes" and "economy" and "good government."

It is possible there will be more governmental developments in the near future on city and county levels which have been rather quiet in some months.

From Chaos Into Confusion

New York City has taken another jolt to the midriff — a study of its educational system saying that cure for its ills is to dump the existing system and start over.

It turns out, though, that the proposed new system is only an updated model of an old system that was so bad it was dumped in favor of the system that now has become so bad it should be dumped, too.

This amounts to saying public-school education in New York City is in a bind it cannot squeeze out of — not even with sweeping reform, because the only reform possible would be a rerun of something that failed before.

There merely would be a transition from chaos into confusion if today's over-centralization were to be replaced by tomorrow's decentralization. That was why New York schools became over-centralized — because they once had been under-centralized.

When a topnotch panel comes up with something like this there can be no doubt its members painfully marched up the hill, then marched back down again in an honest search for answers. They took into consideration that New York City schools are handicapped by a multitude of restraints, therefore if they were run by local school boards the restraints would disappear.

They did not take into consideration that local school boards are as useless as diapers on a gorilla unless consistently manned by members who know what they are doing and how to get it done.

Once more it has been demonstrated that New York City is too unwieldly for its own good, a fact that gets clearer every day to Mayor Lindsay, his associates and even the hot-shot specialists he calls in the recommend improvements.

And How Are You?

It was bound to happen.

An interviewer was given a one-word summation when he put the perennial question to a man who reached his 100th birthday.

You are familiar with the usual question-answer exchange that goes something like this:

Question: "Sir, to what do you attribute your long life?

Another answer: "I think it is because I have always known how to hold my temper."

Another answer: "I have made it this far because I start every day the same way. I have brandy and raw eggs for breakfast."

Next question: "How do you feel?

Answer: "Never felt better in my life."

Another answer: "I'm looking forward to reaching 150."

Another answer: "I can't hear too well; wait until I shut off my motorcycle."

And so it goes.

But when an interviewer in Denver, Colo., asked F. D. Gill how he felt, the 100-year-old didn't waste any words.

"He replied: "Tired."

Anybody who has lived to be 100 deserves to feel tired. Moreover, he is entitled to say so.

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

Whenever I read about that huge arsenal site near Ravenna, Ohio, currently talked about as a trade center, formerly proposed for an atomic reactor center, I drift into nostalgia. As a growing boy, I swam, rode a bicycle, went on picnics and took nature walks in and about this place.

Now that Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, has begun running for the Republican presidential nomination, the field is wide open. I think the general was the greatest ever as an aviator-general, but I wonder about his qualifications to be president of the United States.

I wonder if peoole who know what it's all about also are wondering what happened to the two-party system in municipal elections this year. It vanished in places like Cleveland and Gary.

One of the places I've always wanted to go to is Australia, and that is why I felt good when I saw a picture of U. S. fighting men swinging down the lane with a bikini-revealed Sydney doll. Sydney now is being used as a rest area for our troops in Vietnam. They love us in Australia. Mmm.

It is interesting to speculate on how much further the Soviet Union might have come in half a century if its composite energies have not been throttled by needless terror and bloodshed, continuing long after its original opponents had been "liquidated."

San Francisco was thinking of ditching cable cars a few years ago but now is planning to add more because visitors love them. I did not ride a cable car out there because my traveling companion was not nimble enough to cope with the athletics involved in the project and I was uncertain about where we would end up.

The M16 rifle debate, which finds the brass telling the brawlers not to complain because the weapon they criticize is just dandy, has all the earmarks of a bureaucratic bungle and will not be settled until an assistant secretary of defense is sent to South Vietnam with an M16 rifle and orders to bring himself home alive.

The Celebrity Auction

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

One of the latest methods of raising money for charity is to hold a "celebrity auction." The sponsoring organization writes to someone in the public eye and says: "We are holding a celebrity auction and would appreciate it if you would send us something personal that we could sell at the next meeting of the Little Sisters of the Freres Jacques. Anything at all will do as long as it comes from you."

Art Buchwald

The fund-raising gimmick seems to have taken the country by storm, and for the last two years I've been averaging five requests a week from such varied groups as the Friends of the Hospital for Professional Football Knee Injuries and the League to Abolish Tree Diseases.

I have always been very diligent about my mail, and in the beginning I sent out canceled credit cards, autographed telephone books, personalized cigarette lighters and gift books that I had never read.

At first I welcomed requests because they helped clean out all the junk in my office. But as time went on the demands kept coming in and pretty soon I had run out of worthless things to auction.

SIX MONTHS AGO I sent out my last telephone book, and I still had pleas on my desk from 14 worthy charitable organizations.

So I started sending out things of more value. My file cabinet went to the Knights of Nasser. My typewriter was sent to the Sisterhood of Wall St. Brokers.

Then my desk went and finally my chair. The office was bare, but the requests still kept pouring in.

One day as I sat on my floor opening my mail, I suggested to my secretary that we call it quits. But she said, "How can you say no to so many worthy causes? Don't you have any heart at all?"

So I started stealing stuff from home, a lamp here, a blanket there, a throw rug from the hall—things I was sure my wife wouldn't miss.

My secretary dutifully wrapped them and sent them off to the Eighth Day Church of Monrovia, the Sons of General Custer Foundation and the Benedict Arnold Antidefamation League.

THE SILVERWARE went next, then the china, and finally I took all the pillows from the children's beds. My wife started to get suspicious and one day when she caught me trying to sneak out with her dressing table, she called me on it.

I had to confess it was going to an auction for the benefit of the Old People's Home for the Television Blind.

When she found out what I had been doing for the past two months, she put her foot down on my sending any more gifts to celebrity auctions. I told my secretary and she was heartbroken.

"What can I tell the Abortion League of Waco, Tex.?"

I couldn't stand the hurt look on her face, so I took off my shirt.

"Here, send them this. But can we call it off after this?"

"You're the boss," she said as she looked wistfully at my shoes.

VICTOR RIESEL

Riot Breeding Groups Wait

NEW YORK: — During recent cross-country hedgehopping trips this reporter has run across latter-day revolutionary cells of "urban guerrillas" in many of our "inner cities."

Victor Riesel

They operate in and on the edge of the "black ghettos" though virtually all of them include white comrades. Federal authorities, amateurishly having read Lenin's plodding scorn of "infantile leftism," report that there is no central network, no national "conspiracy," no coordination.

These federals are wrong.

Many fine metropolitan police chiefs know the national authorities are wrong, but just don't have the time or inclination to argue. Certainly, there are five or ten tiny isolated, thoroughly sex-saturated independent cells — fully left and infantile — in each megalopolis. But there is a week-knit Maoist movement, anti Moscow, and now even anti-Castro, and pro-Peking, known as the Progressive Labor Party of the Progressive Labor Movement.

The other day this movement was prematurely buried as "defunct" by a national news wire service. The press service was wrong. The movement, though not old enough to have picked up a large following, is far too young to die in the public prints.

It is a fully lively corpse. It has money. It has two newspapers, one here called Challenge-Desafio (a 32-page English-Spanish tabloid) and one published in San Francisco. It is launching a Maoist magazine, reminiscently called "World Revolution," and has at least 10 headquarters — four of them here, at least one in San Francisco, one in Southern California and several at points in between.

THERE ARE OTHER tiny networks, such as the Revolutionary Action Movement (New York, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, at least), and other such Black Banner gangs. Local police, each with in-depth intelligence services which have deeply infiltrated each "movement," don't laugh them off. The police don't smile, and don't agree with Lenin that "infantile leftism" eventually is destroyed by the super power of the establishment.

"In each city there are two or three, or five or six cells trying to stimulate or keep riots going," said one sophisticated authority, a student of direct action and street welfare.

"There are Maoists. There are ultras. There are those who believe in mass action and even killings. There are indications that these cells soon will coalesce. We know of these conversations. So. shortly there will be one, or two or three national organizations headed for open rebellion in this country. Sure there is no overall conspiracy now. But remember the Progressive Labor Party your column was the first to expose. They're digging in. They may well become the center."

Perhaps this chap is too deeply steeped in his investigation. Perhaps he has been living with it too long. But, perhaps not. This column knew of Progressive Labor Movement cell meetings in dingy West Side "apartments" and back-of-store rooms (fully equipped with wall-to-wall mattresses; as far back as the summer of 1964. After waiting for somebody to take them seriously, this column reported on Jan. 22, 1965, that these cells had been instructed in the making of Molotov cocktails, the planting of rooftop riflemen, the easy purchase of rockets, mortars and even machine guns.

Those cell sessions were not taken seriously though they had preceeded the grim, window-smashing, barricade-building six-day Harlem riots by just a few hours.

Now this is all corroborated — in testimony, in the fire, the blood and looting of what the cell leaders like to call the "black revolution."

THUS FAR IT IS NO revolution and it really is not all black. The Progressive Labor Movement (or Party) is the logical development of the hardening of the arteries in the Communist world. The Progressive Labor Movement is a splinter of the Communist Party. There always are splinters. The world is stuck with them. I could list 25 breakaways from the old C.P. during the last quarter-century. But even the Trotskyites did not take to the streets. Even they did no call for the "U.S. to get out of the black ghettos now." Even the "Trots," and the "ins" call them, did not train "urban guerrillas" for the "final conflict."

Heed this quote from the most recent edition of Challenge:

"As important as the ghetto liberation fighter is to the strubble, if he is not a part of a revolutionary organization that has a long-range perspective of building bases among the people and has a political program for seizing state power, his fighting will be for nothing."

This is a new breed. It's young. It has time. It says so:

". . . The need is for a revolutionary organization that is painstakingly built from the bottom up — that has a program for liberation and sees the need for a long-term revolutionary struggle — yes, for years."

If the public doesn't take this seriously, the official Communist Party does. During the week of October 16, 80 members of its National Board, led by the party's Negro Affairs Commission, cohired by Chicago's Claude Lightfoot, moved to meet the competition's challenge. The Communist Party came out publicly in support of black violence. It did not want to lose any members to the younger romantics.

Our own federal authorities may not believe there is a national burn-baby-burn network. But the Soviet intelligence service does. And they want a piece of the action.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Protest Mail

Hopes for early adjournment of Congress seem to have been dispelled. Both houses are current policies which generate a widespread which will require a lot of work between now and the Christmas recess.

Many members would like to spend a few weeks at home to get a line on public opinion, because the session which begins in January is likely to be long.

It is generally agreed that mail from constituents is full of protests. Senators and representatives are faced with voting on legislation they feel is necessary but unpopular. Discontent throughout the country is manifesting itself in many ways.

There are not only economic questions — such as the proposed tax increase and the rising cost of living — but emotional reactions to current policies which generate a widespread dissatisfaction.

One of the most disturbing elements is growth of racial friction. There was a time when the question of civil rights could be discussed objectively, when there was widespread sympathy for the Negro as a victim of discrimination.

A CHANGE has been apparent in recent months as misguided leaders of a few Negro organizations have emphasized "black power" and have not hesitated to express themselves in militant language — much of which has contained threats.

As the elections indicated, too much talk of "black power" tends to increase racial antagonisms and cause persons of the opposite color to use ballots to express their emotions. Some Negro leaders recognize these trends and are in disagreement with those in their ranks who have been overemphasizing race consciousness.

The theory that an individual should be judged on his ability and character, rather than on his race or color is, of course, accepted as a sensible formula by fair-minded people.

But politicians know very well that when racial issues are raised and emotions are aroused, fair-mindedness disappears and prejudices supersede all else.

There was a time when the Republican party could count on the Negro vote throughout the country, while Democrats benefited from the almost solid support they received from whites in northern cities and the South.

Although more and more Negroes are being permitted to vote in Southern states, the balance of power there still rests with the white population.

The Republican party no longer enjoys a monopoly of the Negro vote anywhere. Most of it has gone over to the Democratic party, particularly after the civil-rights movement reached an intensive stage.

Perhaps the most perplexing question of all for federal and local governments is how to deal with school integration.

The U.S. Supreme Court's opinion in 1954, which advised that "equal educational opportunities" require that Negroes and whites mingle in the schools, has not been uniformly applied, largely because of segregation due to residential factors.

THE NEGRO population, in the North is concentrated in the cities. Many white families have moved to the suburbs.

Politicians at first thought this would solve the problem, but now some leaders of Negro organizations are insisting that students be bused from Negro areas to schools in white neighborhoods in the cities, even to the suburbs. This has caused uneasiness among white families, and city authorities find themselves compelled to be cautious about expressing their views on such issues.

Members of Congress are confronted with the fact that federal funds are being poured into the cities and states for education.

The U.S. Office of Education holds the purse strings and is not only dictating how school integration shall be accomplished in the South, but is trying to do the same thing in other parts of the country, thus creating unrest among parents of school children.

This is bound to be reflected in the political campaign of 1968, when the 435 members of the house and one-third of the senators are up for re-election.

Post-Election Action

It is of interest to political observers — not to say taxpayers and voters who also do plenty of observing of politics — to note the strange cycles of activity which strike the processes of democratic legislation.

With the closing of the polls last Tuesday, for example, there was a remarkable surge of accomplishment by area solons, as they are termed in some journals.

While ballots were still being counted at Wellsville, a move to boost the Mayor's salary $1,000 and grant other pay raises was almost under emergency procedure which would have suspended separate readings.

Wednesday night at Midland, the borough's wage tax was increased to 1 per cent by Council which suddenly saw fit to seek funds to make up for anticipated losses from the machine tax due to a Court decision.

Salem's Council that same night approved first reading of an ordinance doubling the city's income tax, boosting it from one - half per cent to a full 1 per cent to meet the needs "specified and contemplated" by that august body.

The phenomenon of the post - election tax bite is part of the history of American government, not hard to explain to anyone familiar with the resistance of the average voter to dishing out more money or aware of the problem of elected officials trying to keep up with growing needs of the community, rising costs of operations.

In this atmosphere of tax hostility, few officials seeking voter support come out for more millage, higher percentages just before an election.

This goes for other governmental policies Councilmen may deem necessary, but of which the average voter might be critical, such as new traffic regulations, enforcement of building laws or revision of parking controls.

The legislative upmanship is also apparent at the state and federal level.

However, the action is less of a commentary upon the legislative attitude than upon the voters, for here is in most cases not a sneaky means of governmental operation, but a managed delay technique so as not to upset the campaign applecart, spilling a Delicious or Mcintosh an opponent could seize and toss right in an incumbent's face. One simply doesn't manufacture issues for a political foe, one doesn't irritate the ballot potential among people who tend to oversimplify "taxes" and "economy" and "good government."

It is possible there will be more governmental developments in the near future on city and county levels which have been rather quiet in some months.

From Chaos Into Confusion

New York City has taken another jolt to the midriff — a study of its educational system saying that cure for its ills is to dump the existing system and start over.

It turns out, though, that the proposed new system is only an updated model of an old system that was so bad it was dumped in favor of the system that now has become so bad it should be dumped, too.

This amounts to saying public-school education in New York City is in a bind it cannot squeeze out of — not even with sweeping reform, because the only reform possible would be a rerun of something that failed before.

There merely would be a transition from chaos into confusion if today's over-centralization were to be replaced by tomorrow's decentralization. That was why New York schools became over-centralized — because they once had been under-centralized.

When a topnotch panel comes up with something like this there can be no doubt its members painfully marched up the hill, then marched back down again in an honest search for answers. They took into consideration that New York City schools are handicapped by a multitude of restraints, therefore if they were run by local school boards the restraints would disappear.

They did not take into consideration that local school boards are as useless as diapers on a gorilla unless consistently manned by members who know what they are doing and how to get it done.

Once more it has been demonstrated that New York City is too unwieldly for its own good, a fact that gets clearer every day to Mayor Lindsay, his associates and even the hot-shot specialists he calls in the recommend improvements.

And How Are You?

It was bound to happen.

An interviewer was given a one-word summation when he put the perennial question to a man who reached his 100th birthday.

You are familiar with the usual question-answer exchange that goes something like this:

Question: "Sir, to what do you attribute your long life?

Another answer: "I think it is because I have always known how to hold my temper."

Another answer: "I have made it this far because I start every day the same way. I have brandy and raw eggs for breakfast."

Next question: "How do you feel?

Answer: "Never felt better in my life."

Another answer: "I'm looking forward to reaching 150."

Another answer: "I can't hear too well; wait until I shut off my motorcycle."

And so it goes.

But when an interviewer in Denver, Colo., asked F. D. Gill how he felt, the 100-year-old didn't waste any words.

"He replied: "Tired."

Anybody who has lived to be 100 deserves to feel tired. Moreover, he is entitled to say so.

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

Whenever I read about that huge arsenal site near Ravenna, Ohio, currently talked about as a trade center, formerly proposed for an atomic reactor center, I drift into nostalgia. As a growing boy, I swam, rode a bicycle, went on picnics and took nature walks in and about this place.

Now that Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, has begun running for the Republican presidential nomination, the field is wide open. I think the general was the greatest ever as an aviator-general, but I wonder about his qualifications to be president of the United States.

I wonder if peoole who know what it's all about also are wondering what happened to the two-party system in municipal elections this year. It vanished in places like Cleveland and Gary.

One of the places I've always wanted to go to is Australia, and that is why I felt good when I saw a picture of U. S. fighting men swinging down the lane with a bikini-revealed Sydney doll. Sydney now is being used as a rest area for our troops in Vietnam. They love us in Australia. Mmm.

It is interesting to speculate on how much further the Soviet Union might have come in half a century if its composite energies have not been throttled by needless terror and bloodshed, continuing long after its original opponents had been "liquidated."

San Francisco was thinking of ditching cable cars a few years ago but now is planning to add more because visitors love them. I did not ride a cable car out there because my traveling companion was not nimble enough to cope with the athletics involved in the project and I was uncertain about where we would end up.

The M16 rifle debate, which finds the brass telling the brawlers not to complain because the weapon they criticize is just dandy, has all the earmarks of a bureaucratic bungle and will not be settled until an assistant secretary of defense is sent to South Vietnam with an M16 rifle and orders to bring himself home alive.

The Celebrity Auction

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

One of the latest methods of raising money for charity is to hold a "celebrity auction." The sponsoring organization writes to someone in the public eye and says: "We are holding a celebrity auction and would appreciate it if you would send us something personal that we could sell at the next meeting of the Little Sisters of the Freres Jacques. Anything at all will do as long as it comes from you."

Art Buchwald

The fund-raising gimmick seems to have taken the country by storm, and for the last two years I've been averaging five requests a week from such varied groups as the Friends of the Hospital for Professional Football Knee Injuries and the League to Abolish Tree Diseases.

I have always been very diligent about my mail, and in the beginning I sent out canceled credit cards, autographed telephone books, personalized cigarette lighters and gift books that I had never read.

At first I welcomed requests because they helped clean out all the junk in my office. But as time went on the demands kept coming in and pretty soon I had run out of worthless things to auction.

SIX MONTHS AGO I sent out my last telephone book, and I still had pleas on my desk from 14 worthy charitable organizations.

So I started sending out things of more value. My file cabinet went to the Knights of Nasser. My typewriter was sent to the Sisterhood of Wall St. Brokers.

Then my desk went and finally my chair. The office was bare, but the requests still kept pouring in.

One day as I sat on my floor opening my mail, I suggested to my secretary that we call it quits. But she said, "How can you say no to so many worthy causes? Don't you have any heart at all?"

"What can I tell the Abortion League of Waco, Tex.?"

I couldn't stand the hurt look on her face, so I took off my shirt.

"Here, send them this. But can we call it off after this?"

"You're the boss," she said as she looked wistfully at my shoes.

Five hundred attended the 31st annual concert of the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir of Midland Sunday afternoon at Lincoln High School auditorium.

The Granica Serbian Church Choir of Windsor, Canada, directed by Peter Jankov, were guest singers. They were accompanied by the Rev. Fr. and Mrs. Vladimir Milinkovich.

Robert Vukmirovich, secretary of the Serbian Singing Federation of America, was a guest.

Other guests included the Very Rev. Vlasticmir Tomich of Aliquippa and the Very Rev. Dr. Milan Popovich of McKeesport.

Selections also were given by the Petar Krstich Choir of Steubenville, directed by Slobodon Zelich; the Crucible Male Chorus, directed by Fred Martell; the St. Sava Choir of McKeesport and Duquesne, directed by Dr. Milan Popovich; the St. George Tamburtizans, directed by Donald Knezevich, and the Junior Choir, directed by the Rev. Milorad Dobrota.

The Junior Choir presented a musical program entitled "In a Gypsy Camp." Dancers were Debbie Studen, Melanie Suznevich, Nedra Bomestar, Linda Tarbuk and Jeanette Drageleivich. Soloists were Nadine Vujnovich, Lisa Tarbuk and Denise Tepovich. Cathy Caccic and Miss Vujnovich sang a duet.

All choirs participated in singing the "Lord's Prayer" and the national anthem.

Mrs. Grover Epley was chairman, assisted by Mrs. Dan Paige, Mrs. Joe Jovovich, Mrs. Mike Nadjelkov and Mrs. Dorothy Dragovich, president of the Circle of Serbian Sisters.

Music for dancing was by Pete Radakovich of Canton. A farewell celebration was held for the Canadian choir.

Program Attracts 50 At Glenmoor's Legion

Roland Webber, commander, introduced Lt. Col. Stanley G. Brugh, East Liverpool High School ROTC director, who was guest speaker.

As part of the program, the names of post members serving in Vietnam were read and a patriotic tape recording was played by Russel Turner, adjutant.

Costs Seen Slowing U.S. Interstate Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The higher cost of roadbuilding has set the nation's interstate highway system plans back at least four years, says Ohio Highway Director P. E. Masheter.

The director reports that completion of the interstate system, first scheduled for 1971, probably won't come until 1975. The current target date is 1973.

The first estimates of interstate highway costs in Ohio's system totaled $2.3 billion, Masheter said, but the total has been revised to $2.81 billion because of rising labor and material costs. The latest figure is now also considered too low, he added.

candidate, I have definitely decided to enter primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska, Oregon and South Dakota."

The latest Gallup Poll said the 1,565 adults queried across the country listed the Vietnam war, racial strife and the high cost of living as the nation's most important problems.

Dr. George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, which conducts the poll, said 30 per cent of those questioned listed the Republican party as best able to handle these problems. He said 26 per cent named the Democrats. Twenty-eight per cent felt their was no difference between the parties and 16 per cent had no opinion, Gallup said.

Mrs. Shirley Temple Black is winding up her campaign for the Republican nomination for Congress in California's San Mateo County. Much of the debate has centered on differences in Vietnam policy. Four Republicans and six Democrats seek their parties' nominations.

The Atlanta Journal quoted James H. Gray, Georgia Democratic chairman, as saying "there is quite a move by party chairmen" in the South to offer the vice presidency to former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace on the condition he "stay inside the party."

Wallace has said in numerous recent speeches around the country he will run on a third-party ticket if neither major party offered a conservative candidate and platform.

"from 12 to 15 miles per hour" when he hit a tree in a field near the party area. He said he was alone in the car and had driven into the field in an effort to get out of sight because some of the students had reported "the cops were coming."

The defendant said his car jumps in first gear and it jumped as he hit a rut in the field and veered into the tree which he said was "about 10 or 12 inches in diameter."

He described the damage to the right front fender and headlight and the front bumper. He also testified the windshield popped out when he hit the tree. He said he was able to straighten out the bumper with a chain and pull the fender off the tire with his hands.

Under cross - examination by James D. Primm Jr., assistant prosecuting attorney, Jackson said there was no difference in the appearance of the damaged bumper and fender after the second accident.

Also to be called by the defense today is John F. McIntosh of Wellsville RD 1, a millwright and Volkswagen mechanic, who was on the stand when the trial recessed Thursday.

Car Leaves Highway, District Man Injured

James N. Hall of RD 4 suffered a laceration of the scalp when his car went over an embankment along Route 30 about two miles west of Laughlin's Corners Saturday afternoon.

Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie said Hall was headed west when the car skidded off the road. Hall was treated at City Hospital.

Israel And Jordan Meet In U.N. Council Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel and Jordan meet in face-to-face debate in the U.N. Security Council today with little or no change expected in the chief points at issue between them.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban was ready to call once more for direct negotiations, whether arranged by the Arabs and the Israelis themselves or by a U.N. special representative.

Jordanian Foreign minister Abdul Monem Rifa'i was expected to demand that Israeli troops withdraw from occupied soil in Egypt, Jordan and Syria before talks could begin.

Israeli and Jordanian gunners on opposite sides of the Jordan River waged their own debate Sunday, trading barrages of medium artillery and mortars. Neither side reported any casualties.

An Israeli army spokesman said Jordan fired first and that the exchange lasted four hours. A Jordanian military spokesman said the Israelis shelled farmhouses in Jordan for 50 minutes.

Eban canceled a speech before the council Thursday when a Soviet move switched him from No. 2 on the speakers' list to No. 7.

Sunday evening the Israeli foreign minister, responding to questions on Metromedia's "Opinion: Washington" television program, accused the Arab countries of "getting themselves into a mood of regarding negotiations with Israel as a forbidden process."

The Middle East countries must learn to settle their own problems without influence from the outside, he said.

He also blamed the June war on the Soviet Union, charging that the Soviets fed false information to Syria about Israeli troop movements and urged the Egyptians to help Syria withstand the threat posed by 11 Israeli divisions the Russians said were massed on the Syrian border.

Pair Injured In Car Crash

A Weirton youth was in "fair" condition at City Hospital after he and a Chester man were injured early today in a Route 2 auto accident.

Williams' 1963 sedan was demolished.

Hancock sheriff's deputies said the car slid on wet pavement, ran off the road and over an embankment striking a utility pole, fence and post. About $300 property damage resulted.

The accident happened on Route 2 two miles south of the Route 30 intersection about 2:42 a.m.

Tribesmen in southwestern New Britain hunt with blowguns 12 to 20 feet long.

Beaver County Crash Hurts 2 Area Women

Five persons, including two Newell women, suffered minor injuries in an auto accident Sunday afternoon on Route 65 in East Rochester, Beaver County.

Police said a car operated by Sylvester M. Webster of Sharon RD 2 struck the rear of another driven by Edward Earl Hupp of 601 Harrison St., Newell. Hupp had slowed in the rain to make a turn, officers said.

Neither driver was hurt. Injured were Verna M. Hupp, 49, and Elizabeth Hupp, 22, passengers in the West Virginia car, and Mrs. Esther Webster, 37, and Mrs. Goldie Webster, 58, both of Sharon RD 2, and Julie Gill, 5, of New Wilmington RD 2, passengers in the Webster car. All were treated at Rochester General Hospital.

Israel And Jordan Meet In U.N. Council Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel and Jordan meet in face-to-face debate in the U.N. Security Council today with little or no change expected in the chief points at issue between them.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban was ready to call once more for direct negotiations, whether arranged by the Arabs and the Israelis themselves or by a U.N. special representative.

Jordanian Foreign minister Abdul Monem Rifa'i was expected to demand that Israeli troops withdraw from occupied soil in Egypt, Jordan and Syria before talks could begin.

Israeli and Jordanian gunners on opposite sides of the Jordan River waged their own debate Sunday, trading barrages of medium artillery and mortars. Neither side reported any casualties.

An Israeli army spokesman said Jordan fired first and that the exchange lasted four hours. A Jordanian miiitary spokesman said the Israelis shelled farmhouses in Jordan for 50 minutes.

Eban canceled a speech before the council Thursday when a Soviet move switched him from No. 2 on the speakers' list to No. 7.

Sunday evening the Israeli foreign minister, responding to questions on Metromedia's "Opinion: Washington" television program, accused the Arab countries of "getting themselves into a mood of regarding negotiations with Israel as a forbidden process."

The Middle East countries must learn to settle their own problems without influence from the outside, he said.

He also blamed the June war on the Soviet Union, charging that the Soviets fed false information to Syria about Israeli troop movements and urged the Egyptians to help Syria withstand the threat posed by 11 Israeli divisions the Russians said were massed on the Syrian border.

Pair Injured In Car Crash

A Weirton youth was in "fair" condition at City Hospital after he and a Chester man were injured early today in a Route 2 auto accident.

Williams' 1963 sedan was demolished.

Hancock sheriff's deputies said the car slid on wet pavement, ran off the road and over an embankment striking a utility pole, fence and post. About $300 property damage resulted.

The accident happened on Route 2 two miles south of the Route 30 intersection about 2:42 a.m.

Beaver County Crash Hurts 2 Area Women

Five persons, including two Newell women, suffered minor injuries in an auto accident Sunday afternoon on Route 65 in East Rochester, Beaver County.

Police said a car operated by Sylvester M. Webster of Sharon RD 2 struck the rear of another driven by Edward Earl Hupp of 601 Harrison St., Newell. Hupp had slowed in the rain to make a turn, officers said.

Neither driver was hurt. Injured were Verna M. Hupp, 49, and Elizabeth Hupp, 22, passengers in the West Virginia car, and Mrs. Esther Webster, 37, and Mrs. Goldie Webster, 58, both of Sharon RD 2, and Julie Gill, 5, of New Wilmington RD 2, passengers in the Webster car. Legion Dedicates Shrine

A shrine to deceased veterans at Wellsville American Legion Post 70 was dedicated Saturday at a Veterans Day banquet at which Phillip R. McBride, Ohio American Legion commander, was speaker.

McBride of Cincinnati spoke about the Vietnam war and those who protest the nation's policies. Mrs. Wanda Dickey, accompanied by Russ Ludwig, sang "Taps."

In his speech, McBride called beatniks and demonstrators the "unwashed vocal minority". He said the "silent majority", who obey laws, should be heard and should take more voice in the government."

Aggression is a word which should be defined, he said, in relating to the Vietnam conflict. He noted that U.S. troops are in Vietnam at the invitation of the South Vietnamese government. He said that the U.S. had the choice of fighting the "undeclared war" there or on the shores of California.

McBride noted that until 1954, Veteran's Day was called Armistice Day. Declared in 1938 a national holiday, it was changed to Veteran's Day to include all war veterans. Naming the American Legion as the "bulwark of freedom," McBride said the organization should take more part in government and should speak out for - and against - governmental programs, according to the Legion's outlook. McBride concluded by commending Jerome Gitschier, commander, and the other officers, for having one of "the finest Legion posts" he'd ever visited.

Clarence Smith of Huntington, W. Va., a post member who dedicated the materials for the shrine, was present. He was acompanied by his wife and daughter.

Gitshier presented plaques for "meritorous service" to Sam Maylone, Harry Excell, George Wilkins, Dorman Householder and William Boyce. A "tie" for the honor of Legionnaire of the Year resulted in both Robert Tolson and Ken Hoover being recognized and presented plaques.

Charles Huffman, commander of American Legion Post 163 of Lawrenceville, presented McBride with a 30-inch, hand - carved American Legion emblem. This emblem was hand - crafted by Virgil Septer who was ill and unable to attend.

Among guests at the banquet were James Cregar, 10th District commander of the Ohio American Legion; Floyd Swearingen of Massilon, first vice commander of the 10th District; Robert Poynter, sergeant - at - arms of the 10th District; Mrs. Norma Jean Poynter, president of the auxiliary of the 10th District; Mrs. Charles Huffman, president of the Lawrenceville Post auxiliary; the Gold Star Mothers and Fathers of the Wellsville area; Don Bennett, Past commander of the Mt. Carmel American Legion Post; and Mayor William Daugherty.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Jane Kata and John Calhoun offered vocal selections. McBride was presented a gift from the post. Cedric Stanway offered the invocation and benediction.

Ringling Bros. Circus Under New Ownership

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Work went on with new enthusiasm at winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Shows, Inc., today and "The Greatest Show on Earth" was under new ownership for the first time since the Ringling brothers hit the road as entertainers in 1882.

"That's great news," said workers in and around the big amphitheater here which the circus calls home for seven or eight weeks each winter. They referred to reports from Rome, Italy, that Judge Roy Hofheinz of Houston, Tex., and Irvin and Israel Feld of Washington, D.C., had bought the famous old amusement enterprise for "more than $10 million."

John Ringling North, president of the circus off and on since his uncle John Ringling died in 1936, said he decided to pass ownership to Hofheinz and the Feld brothers because they indicated "their concern and their dedication to maintain the concept, tradition and artistic standards of the circus."

The new owners announced the technical staff of the circus would remain the same and the 1968 season would proceed as scheduled. The circus is to close its 1967 tour in Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19 and return to winter quarters here, where it will start the 1968 season with a three-day stand Jan. 11-13.

The new owners said North would continue as producer and his brother, Henry Ringling North, would remain as vice president. Offices will be moved from New York to Washington, D.C., where the Feld brothers have operated the Carter Barrow Amphitheater for the past 14 years.

Hofheinz, who masterminded the Astrodome stadium in Houston, will become board chairman of the circus, with Irvin Feld president and chief executive officer and Israel Feld executive vice president and treasurer.

North, 64, who makes his home in Rome, had 450 of the 1,000 circus shares in his own name and with his brother controlled 60 more as executors of their mother's estate. Minority stockholders, who owned 490 shares, were heirs of Edith Conway Ringling and her son, Robert Edward Ringling.

The Circuit Court last Thursday approved sale of the minority stock and Judge Lynn Silvertooth said the court acted for beneficiaries of the trusts.

Missouri Girl Named As Miss Teenage Of '68

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A mite of a girl with a smile that makes her glow, Stephanie Crane of High Ridge, Mo., is the 1968 Miss Teen-age America.

The 17-year-old high school senior also was selected the favorite of the 62 other contestants because of her spontaniety and friendliness.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Richard Crane, said they were numb. Their two younger children, a boy, 6, and a girl, 3, watched on color television sets back in High Ridge with an assortment of aunts and uncles and grandparents.

In addition to the scholarship, Stef won a new car, a guaranteed $5,000 in personal appearances that will take her up to 500,000 miles around the nation during her reign, a clothes wardrobe, and stock in two of the sponsoring companies.

Ringling Bros. Circus Under New Ownership

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Work went on with new enthusiasm at winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Shows, Inc., today and "The Greatest Show on Earth" was under new ownership for the first time since the Ringling brothers hit the road as entertainers in 1882.

"That's great news," said workers in and around the big amphitheater here which the circus calls home for seven or eight weeks each winter. They referred to reports from Rome, Italy, that Judge Roy Hofheinz of Houston, Tex., and Irvin and Israel Feld of Washington, D.C., had bought the famous old amusement enterprise for "more than $10 million."

John Ringling North, president of the circus off and on since his uncle John Ringling died in 1936, said he decided to pass ownership to Hofheinz and the Feld brothers because they indicated "their concern and their dedication to maintain the concept, tradition and artistic standards of the circus."

The new owners announced the technical staff of the circus would remain the same and the 1968 season would proceed as scheduled. The circus is to close its 1967 tour in Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19 and return to winter quarters here, where it will start the 1968 season with a three-day stand Jan. 11-13.

The new owners said North would continue as producer and his brother, Henry Ringling North, would remain as vice president. Offices will be moved from New York to Washington, D.C., where the Feld brothers have operated the Carter Barrow Amphitheater for the past 14 years.

Hofheinz, who masterminded the Astrodome stadium in Houston, will become board chairman of the circus, with Irvin Feld president and chief executive officer and Israel Feld executive vice president and treasurer.

North, 64, who makes his home in Rome, had 450 of the 1,000 circus shares in his own name and with his brother controlled 60 more as executors of their mother's estate. Minority stockholders, who owned 490 shares, were heirs of Edith Conway Ringling and her son, Robert Edward Ringling.

The Circuit Court last Thursday approved sale of the minority stock and Judge Lynn Silvertooth said the court acted for beneficiaries of the trusts.

Students Honor Memory Of Late School Principal

The student body at Meadowbrook High School of Richmond, Va., recently paid tribute to the school's late principal, Mack D. Moore, by placing a wreath on the Mack D. Moore Memorial Stone located in the center of the school's stadium entrance. The ceremony will be performed every year.

Mr. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Moore of New Cumberland RD, was the school's first principal serving from 1963-66. He died Oct. 29, 1966, at the age of 38.

A sports enthusiast, he never missed a Meadowbrook game, and he spurred the building of a school stadium and made plans to give his students the best sports facilities in the area.

Following Moore's death, the athletic association named the new stadium in his honor, and later erected the memorial stone, where shrubs have been planted in the garden area surrounding the monument and two white metal benches have been placed along the circular gravel area. In the future, more flowers will be planted and the gravel will be replaced with concrete.

To fulfill another of Moore's dreams, an outside field house will be built to serve both school and community needs. It will house locker rooms, showers, a concession stand and equipment room, and will be serviceable the year around for numerous baseball and football games.

Corn, America's great food gift to the world, goes by many names. The Dutch, Hungarians and French sometimes call corn "Turkish wheat." The Turks call it "Egyptian corn" and Egyptians say "Syrian corn."

Police Probe Church Entry

The breaking and entering of a North Side church and the attempted entry of a downtown temple were reported to police during the weekend, along with a vandalism case.

Officers said drawers were ransacked in various rooms, a filing cabinet was pried open and a lock was removed from a desk drawer in the entry of the Orchard Grove Methodist Church.

The Rev. Phillip N. Carl of 604 Orchard Grove Ave. told police the entry was discovered Sunday morning by a custodian, Mrs. Albert F. Flickinger of 922 Orchard Grove, when she went to the church to clean. He said it is believed nothing was taken.

Dr. Norman Birnbaum of 2799 St. Clair Ave., informed police someone attempted to enter the B'Nai Israel Temple at W. 5th and Monroe Sts. Thursday night or Friday morning.

Birnbaum said the attempt was made on a door at the Monroe St. side and it is believed a crowbar may have been used. Nothing was reported missing.

Frank Catignani of 522 1st Ave., said someone broke eggs on the front porch of his home while he was away between 7 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Saturday.

No other damage resulted, he added.

Students Honor Memory Of Late School Principal

The student body at Meadowbrook High School of Richmond, Va., recently paid tribute to the school's late principal, Mack D. Moore, by placing a wreath on the Mack D. Moore Memorial Stone located in the center of the school's stadium entrance. The ceremony will be performed every year.

Mr. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Moore of New Cumberland RD, was the school's first principal serving from 1963-66. He died Oct. 29, 1966, at the age of 38.

A sports enthusiast, he never missed a Meadowbrook game, and he spurred the building of a school stadium and made plans to give his students the best sports facilities in the area.

Following Moore's death, the athletic association named the new stadium in his honor, and later erected the memorial stone, where shrubs have been planted in the garden area surrounding the monument and two white metal benches have been placed along the circular gravel area. In the future, more flowers will be planted and the gravel will be replaced with concrete.

To fulfill another of Moore's dreams, an outside field house will be built to serve both school and community needs. It will house locker rooms, showers, a concession stand and equipment room, and will be serviceable the year around for numerous baseball and football games.

Night-Only Jailing

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — A Northeastern Junior College student, convicted in Denver of driving his automobile while his license was suspended, served a five-day jail term without missing a class. The Denver judge agreed to let him serve the term at night in the Sterling jail.

ture. Plainclothes policemen were on duty in the terminal and no newsmen or photographers were allowed out of the building toward the runway where the airliner waited.

The U.S. Embassy said the three Americans asked to be disembarked from the Czech plane in Beirut Sunday for rest an medical attention.

It was the three sergeants' first contact with U.S. officials since their release.

Because of his illness, Johnson had not attended the release ceremony in Phnom Penh, but Jackson and Pitzer appeared and made statements of thanks to the Viet Cong and to Hayden. However, newsmen were not allowed to talk to them.

A U.S. psychologist's report released by officials in Saigon said there was evidence the three had undergone Communist brainwashing treatment, but some officials said it was not known how effective the treatments were.

Hayden told Western newsmen in Phnom Penh they were kept away from the three sergeants because they would "exploit" them. Hayden and Communist officials contended that any embarrassing questions put to the sergeants by newsmen might jeopardize the future release of U.S. prisoners. Hayden appeared hurt when newsmen suggested this was akin to blackmail.

Communist sources in Phnom Penh said a steady "trickle" of prisoners would be freed if news stories about the current release were "correctly written."

Th apparent reason for the roundabout route was to draw out the release process while the Communists made as much propaganda as possible of their action, which they have said came in response to peace demonstrations in the United States.

Hayden, a Newark, N.J., writer who twice visited Hanoi and whose passport was withdrawn, represents a committee that includes Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and folk singer Joan Baez.

He said that to his knowledge the committee had not met and he received word in Paris from an unspecified source to go to Phnom Penh on the prisoner matter.

senators who oppose administration war policies will enter presidential primaries next year. He said he won't announce until about Dec. 15 if he plans to oppose Johnson for the Democratic nomination.

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R N.Y., predicted Johnson may ask Congress next year for a pre-election vote of confidence in his Vietnam policies.

—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he believes the American public is wearying of the war. Fulbright, one of the Senate's most outspoken war policy critics, said he feels public support is growing for his position.

The bombing pause question was pushed to the forefront again over the weekend when President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam announced his country's forces would observe a 24-hour cease-fire over Christmas, and possibly the New Year and the lunar new year as well.

State Department sources indicated there is no diplomatic push at this time for any extended bombing pause and no break in the diplomatic impasse over ways to get some kind of peace negotiations started.

Pentagon officials said there has been no indication of any change of viewpoint by Westmoreland or the Joint Chiefs on the bombing pause issue.

When Westmoreland was here in April, he made it clear he opposed cease-fires because the Communist enemy has used such truces to reinforce and resupply fighting units.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified last August before a congressional panel that "the ultimate success of our effort is going to depend on a steady pressure day after day, weather permitting; night after night ...until we really attrite these people to where they cannot support their war in the South."

There have been seven pauses in the bombing dating back to May 1965, ranging in length from 37 days in late 1965 and early 1966 to a single day marking the birthday of Buddha last May.

U.S. authorities claim none of these pauses has produced any meaningful sign from the Communists that they were prepared to discuss peace.

There have been recurrent reports that Westmoreland will be replaced as U.S. commander in Vietnam but there is no evidence that this is imminent.

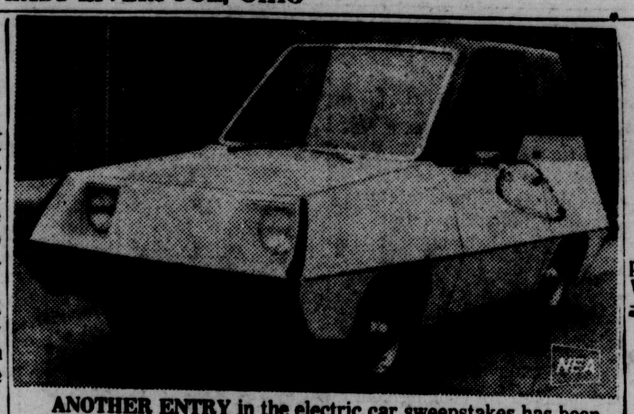
Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara recently issued a statement lavishing praise on Westmoreland after a Democratic senator suggested publicly that the general might soon be recalled.

The expectation in certain informed quarters is that Westmoreland probably will be replaced next spring or summer by Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., now his deputy. By that time, Westmoreland will have had more than four years in Vietnam, most of that time as commander. And Abrams will have had a year to break in.

Gavin was interviewed Sunday on the NBC television-radio program, "Meet the Press." Javits gave his views in a program recorded for New York television stations.

The first regularly - scheduled radio programs began a relatively short time ago — in 1921. Since then, research to develop radio has led to radar, television, and other electronic wonders. The development of television in the 1940's and 1950's brought many changes in radio programming, but television itself still depends on radio waves to carry its pictures and sounds.

Mention of the gorilla appears in ancient literature but it was not until 1847 that the first gorilla skull was examined in the United States.



ANOTHER ENTRY in the electric car sweepstakes has been unveiled by General Electric. Strictly a research model at this point, it is powered by an experimental lead-acid and nickel-cadmium battery system, accounting for 40 per cent of the car's 2,300 pounds, and can hit a maximum 55 m.p.h. with a range of 100-200 miles at a cruising speed of 30-35 m.p.h.

You And The Law

Tom bought a nice house in an older residential neighborhood. It was just what he and his family had wanted—plenty of room for his children to play in, a two-car garage and lots of shade trees. It even had an outside television antenna.

From Tom's point of view, the only thing needed was a fence to keep the stray neighborhood animals — and children — from constantly invading his backyard. So, he had the back yard fenced.

Shortly after the fence was installed, one of Tom's neighbors called to him. "Say, don't you know that all the neighbors had agreed not to put up fences around here. Ruins the scenery. You'll have to take it down," the neighbor said.

"SORRY, BUT that fence cost a lot of money. Anyway, the deed restrictions say nothing about 'no fences.' In fact they spell out what type of fence is permitted," Tom replied.

"O.K., buster," the neighbor said. "If you want to play that game, then read your deed again. That TV antenna is prohibited by deed restrictions. Take it down or I'll call the law."

"Judging from the looks of that antenna, it's been there a long time. Did you complain when the previous owner erected it?" Tom asked.

"No, but so what?" the neighbor retorted.

"Well, you didn't complain about it and it's up. There are a lot of other antennas around, too. I'll bet you didn't complain about those," Tom said. "The fence stays up—and so does the antenna."

IS TOM correct about his position?

In this instance, probably so. Since the neighbor was aware of the deed restriction violation — but did nothing about it — he probably would not win a court case. Since there are other obvious violations, Tom has an even stronger case for his side.

Deed restrictions are generally enforced as a reasonable method of preserving property values. In Tom's area the objective of one of the deed restrictions had failed — many TV antennas erected — so the law would generally rule that the restriction is no longer binding. Such restrictions cannot be used as a sort of selective harassment, as Tom's neighbor attempted to do.

Tom bought a nice house in an older residential neighborhood. It was just what he and his family had wanted—plenty of room for his children to play in, a two-car garage and lots of shade trees. It even had an outside television antenna.

From Tom's point of view, the only thing needed was a fence to keep the stray neighborhood animals — and children — from constantly invading his backyard. So, he had the back yard fenced.

Shortly after the fence was installed, one of Tom's neighbors called to him. "Say, don't you know that all the neighbors had agreed not to put up fences around here. Ruins the scenery. You'll have to take it down," the neighbor said.

"SORRY, BUT that fence cost a lot of money. Anyway, the deed restrictions say nothing about 'no fences.' In fact they spell out what type of fence is permitted," Tom replied.

"O.K., buster," the neighbor said. "If you want to play that game, then read your deed again. That TV antenna is prohibited by deed restrictions. Take it down or I'll call the law."

"Judging from the looks of that antenna, it's been there a long time. Did you complain when the previous owner erected it?" Tom asked.

"No, but so what?" the neighbor retorted.

"Well, you didn't complain about it and it's up. There are a lot of other antennas around, too. I'll bet you didn't complain about those," Tom said. "The fence stays up—and so does the antenna."

IS TOM correct about his position?

In this instance, probably so. Since the neighbor was aware of the deed restriction violation — but did nothing about it — he probably would not win a court case. Since there are other obvious violations, Tom has an even stronger case for his side.

Deed restrictions are generally enforced as a reasonable method of preserving property values. In Tom's area the objective of one of the deed restrictions had failed — many TV antennas erected — so the law would generally rule that the restriction is no longer binding. Such restrictions cannot be used as a sort of selective harassment, as Tom's neighbor attempted to do.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Mothers should be cautioned that some receiving blankets are highly flammable. If children do wear garments made from such blankets, they should be kept away from matches, gas stoves, fireplaces and all open flames.

The Flammable Fabrics Act passed by Congress in 1964 covers wearing apparel and fabrics sold for use in wearing apparel. Receiving blankets, not being wearing apparel and not being sold as fabric for use in wearing apparel, are NOT covered by this law!

CHARLES F. CANAVAN
FEDERAL TRADE COM.

-:-

We thank Mr. Canavan for this expert advice. While we may save a little by making pajamas from receiving blankets, it's not worth the risk involved.

Let's let all our little ones live.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: If your husband is a hunter and litters your kitchen with birds for you to dress, here's a big time-saver I discovered:

An ordinary, small garden pruning clipper takes off a bird's wings so easily. It's much better than trying to saw the bones and cartiledge with a knife.

RUBY SWAINSTEN.

And just why couldn't it clip feet, too?

I've cleaned enough ducks and pheasants to last me a lifetime, and never thought about using a pruning clipper before.

You're great, Ruby.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When my zippered pillowcases become worn, I use them to store seldom-used articles. These include ironed guest bedroom linens, napkins, extra yard goods, bath towels, etc.

Always keeps them clean until needed. And how nice when unexpected guests arrive to just unzip a zipper and everything is right there. These can also be labeled.

MRS. ALBERT SMITH.

DEAR HELOISE: If you are a knitter and come to the end of a skein and need to attach a new length of yarn to it, don't knot it.

When using four-ply yarn, simply unravel about two inches from each end to be joined, and cut off two plies from these raveled ends. Then twist the four plies together as in the original four-ply strand.

No knots, no lumps and no show. Gives you a smooth transition from one ball of yarn to another.

MARJORY HICKEY.

-:-

Margie, Porgie, Puddin-'N'-Pie! That's great. You ought to see the knots in my afghan. Wish you'd written before. Blessings.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always fold my stationery before I start to write a letter. Then I can get the lines in the right place without them being on the crease of the paper. Sure makes letters earier to read.

It also helps to keep your lines straight.

LAURA PATRICK.

DEAR HELOISE: When you buy a large jar of salad dressing, transfer a part of it to a small jar.

In this way, you don't have to be forever lugging the large jar out of the refrigerator to use it, and I find it stays much fresher.

"SKEET".

DEAR HELOISE: Decorate a shoe box and attach it (with thumb tacks or small nails) to the wall of your closet or on the closet door.

Let your husband hang his ready-made clip ties on the edge of the box and put his bow ties inside. He'll find the idea a truly handy one.

CHARLENE BECKHAM.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

2 Cars Damaged In Hit-Skip Crash

A hit - skip crash downtown Sunday night at 9:40 resulted in damage to two vehicles.

Police said the mishap occurred at E. 6th St. and St. Clair Ave. when an auto driven by Jane A. Mathias, 18, of 1551 Clevelaňd Ave. was struck by a vehicle pulling from the curb.

Miss Mathias said she was turning from the Diamond onto E. 6th when the other car pulled into the line of traffic.

She said the vehicle, whose driver remained unidentified, failed to stop. She said it was a small green foreign sedan bearing a Florida registration.

Nine Escape Jail, Seven Still At Large

CINCINNATI (AP)—Seven of nine prisoners who squeezed their way through a small window opening at the Cincinnati Workhouse and escaped the grounds Sunday, remained at large today.

Hundreds of police flooded the area near downtown Cincinnati after the escape was reported and nabbed two of the fugitives in what was described as the largest mass escape from the institution.

Police were combing the area near Interstate 75 for the seven men who for the most part were serving sentences for driving violations, officials said.

George Studt, workhouse superintendent, said the prisoners sawed out one bar from the top of a window on the second tier of a cell block. He said the break occurred shortly before 8 p.m.

He said the sawing opened a space of about seven by 19 inches and the men crawled through the opening and jumped about 14 feet to the ground outside the building.

Studt said the men, who apparently fled one at a time snagged mattress covers on barbed wire atop a 10-foot-high wall and then hoisted themselves over it and into an alley.

A 9-year-old girl first saw the men and reported the incident to her mother, Studt said.

Mrs. Delbart Bowman, the mother of Peggy Bowman, said she saw a youth "with khaki pants" running up the street. Shortly afterwards, she said, two youths told her the escapee stopped them on the street and asked them to trade trousers with him.

She then called the workhouse.

The two men captured were listed as Orville Poor, 20, Cincinnati and Clayton Rouse, 24, Decatur, Ala.

The fugitives still at large were Napoleon Tye, 20, Cincinnati; Gerald Thomas, 24, Kingsport, Tenn.; Leon McConnell, 21, Cincinnati; Donald Page, 23, Cincinnati; Dennis Gilliam, 20, Manchester, Ky.; Richard Asbury, 26, St. Joseph, Ind.; and William Chambers, 32, Cincinnati.

'Friendly' Thief Takes $80 From Newell Resident

A Newell resident, befriended by an unknown man, is $80 poorer today, after the "'friend" stole his wallet early Sunday morning.

Edward Brown of 417 Harrison St., Newell, told police the money, contained in a wallet along with personal papers, was taken about 12:45 a.m. Sunday as he and his new acquaintance walked in Green Ln. on their way to a tavern.

Brown told officers he became acquainted with the man, described as in his early 20s, about 5 feet 10½ inches tall, light complected and clean shaven, and the two decided to walk to a nearby tavern.

While walking through the alley, Brown related, the question of money came up and Brown produced his wallet. He said the man took the wallet and ran. Along with the estimated $80 in bills, business cards and other papers were reported taken.

Patrolmen Dwight Garvey and William Copestick found the billfold early Sunday morning near a Dresden Ave. dry cleaning establishment. Brown, notified by police about 10 a.m., said a driver's license and auto registration still are missing, along with the cash.

It has been estimated that 12 million persons are afflicted with leprosy.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Happy Days Are Here Again

At 34, the homemaker in today's story felt old and frumpy. Now she has a rosy future. Here is her inspiring story:

Ida Jean Kain

"When I married at age 28 I just loved being a wife and homemaker. I enjoyed preparing elaborate meals and delicious desserts for my appreciative husband. After the birth of my second daughter I weighed 15 pounds over my pre-marriage weight. Those first five years slipped away and another 10 pounds eased on.

"When my 5-year-old started school, I felt old and frumpish in comparison with the other mothers. I fretted about this until Christmas time. It was my husband's office Christmas party that jolted me into taking action.

"ON JAN. 8 I began my project. I went to my doctor for a checkup — not for pills or injections, but for his approval to go ahead. I started with your plan of eating to build leanness. I read everything I could about diet and exercise. The encouragement in your column is what helped the most.

"By March 1 I'd lost 12 pounds. The compliments began. What a thrill! Three weeks after I began dieting I started exercising. I did, and still do every day, a combination of Yoga, calisthenics and isometrics.

"I've never felt better in my life. I recommend exercise to everyone dieting — especially those over 30. I did facial exercises, so my cheeks haven't hollowed in. My breasts didn't sag because I followed the exercises with dumbbells in your weight - training program. Also, I touched up the gray in my hair. I began giving myself facials and taking care of my nails.

Here are the before and after measurements:

Jan. 8

Height, 5'1¾ inches, Weight, 140 lbs., Bust 39 inches, Waist 31 inches, Abdomen 37 inches, Hips 40 inches.

Oct. 9

Height 5'2 inches, Weight, 117 lbs., Bust 35½ inches, Waist 25 inches, Abdomen 32½ inches, Hips, 35½ inches.

"The doctor recommends that I bring my weight to 112 pounds and hold it there. I plan to be that weight by our Christmas party. My husband is so proud of me. I can't tell you how happy and young I feel. Thank you so much for your inspiration. Tell your readers it's not hard when you have a goal and think slim," she enthused.

What a shining success story! Her slimmed - down inches almost paralleled her lost poundage. We all rejoice with this gallant young woman.

Send stamped, self - addressed long envelope for Weight Training For Curve Building and New Calorie Chart. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review.

Midland firemen had the fire under control in about 15 minutes, but remained at the scene for an hour.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Mothers should be cautioned that some receiving blankets are highly flammable. If children do wear garments made from such blankets, they should be kept away from matches, gas stoves, fireplaces and all open flames.

The Flammable Fabrics Act passed by Congress in 1954 covers wearing apparel and fabrics sold for use in wearing apparel. Receiving blankets, not being wearing apparel and not being sold as fabric for use in wearing apparel, are NOT covered by this law!

CHARLES F. CANAVAN
FEDERAL TRADE COM.

-:-

We thank Mr. Canavan for this expert advice. While we may save a little by making pajamas from receiving blankets, it's not worth the risk involved.

Let's let all our little ones live.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: If your husband is a hunter and litters your kitchen with birds for you to dress, here's a big time-saver I discovered:

An ordinary, small garden pruning clipper takes off a bird's wings so easily. It's much better than trying to saw the bones and cartiledge with a knife.

RUBY SWAINSTEN.

And just why couldn't it clip feet, too?

I've cleaned enough ducks and pheasants to last me a lifetime, and never thought about using a pruning clipper before.

You're great, Ruby.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When my zippered pillowcases become worn, I use them to store seldom-used articles. These include ironed guest bedroom linens, napkins, extra yard goods, bath towels, etc.

Always keeps them clean until needed. And how nice when unexpected guests arrive to just unzip a zipper and everything is right there. These can also be labeled.

MRS. ALBERT SMITH.

DEAR HELOISE: If you are a knitter and come to the end of a skein and need to attach a new length of yarn to it, don't knot it.

When using four-ply yarn, simply unravel about two inches from each end to be joined, and cut off two plies from these raveled ends. Then twist the four plies together as in the original four-ply strand.

No knots, no lumps and no show. Gives you a smooth transition from one ball of yarn to another.

MARJORY HICKEY.

Margie, Porgie, Puddin-'N'-Pie! That's great. You ought to see the knots in my afghan. Wish you'd written before. Blessings.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always fold my stationery before I start to write a letter. Then I can get the lines in the right place without them being on the crease of the paper. Sure makes letters earier to read.

It also helps to keep your lines straight.

LAURA PATRICK.

DEAR HELOISE: When you buy a large jar of salad dressing, transfer a part of it to a small jar.

In this way, you don't have to be forever lugging the large jar out of the refrigerator to use it, and I find it stays much fresher.

"SKEET".

DEAR HELOISE: Decorate a shoe box and attach it (with thumb tacks or small nails) to the wall of your closet or on the closet door.

Let your husband hang his ready-made clip ties on the edge of the box and put his bow ties inside. He'll find the idea a truly handy one.

CHARLENE BECKHAM.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

2 Cars Damaged In Hit-Skip Crash

A hit - skip crash downtown Sunday night at 9:40 resulted in damage to two vehicles.

Police said the mishap occurred at E. 6th St. and St. Clair Ave. when an auto driven by Jane A. Mathias, 18, of 1551 Cleveland Ave. was struck by a vehicle pulling from the curb.

Miss Mathias said she was turning from the Diamond onto E. 6th when the other car pulled into the line of traffic.

She said the vehicle, whose driver remained unidentified, failed to stop. She said it was a small green foreign sedan bearing a Florida registration.

Nine Escape Jail, Seven Still At Large

CINCINNATI (AP)—Seven of nine prisoners who squeezed their way through a small window opening at the Cincinnati Workhouse and escaped the grounds Sunday, remained at large today.

Hundreds of police flooded the area near downtown Cincinnati after the escape was reported and nabbed two of the fugitives in what was described as the largest mass escape from the institution.

Police were combing the area near Interstate 75 for the seven men who for the most part were serving sentences for driving violations, officials said.

George Studt, workhouse superintendent, said the prisoners sawed out one bar from the top of a window on the second tier of a cell block. He said the break occurred shortly before 8 p.m.

He said the sawing opened a space of about seven by 19 inches and the men crawled through the opening and jumped about 14 feet to the ground outside the building.

Studt said the men, who apparently fled one at a time snagged mattress covers on barbed wire atop a 10-foot-high wall and then hoisted themselves over it and into an alley.

A 9-year-old girl first saw the men and reported the incident to her mother, Studt said.

Mrs. Delbart Bowman, the mother of Peggy Bowman, said she saw a youth "with khaki pants" running up the street. Shortly afterwards, she said, two youths told her the escapee stopped them on the street and asked them to trade trousers with him.

She then called the workhouse.

The two men captured were listed as Orville Poor, 20, Cincinnati and Clayton Rouse, 24, Decatur, Ala.

The fugitives still at large were Napoleon Tye, 20, Cincinnati; Gerald Thomas, 24, Kingsport, Tenn.; Leon McConnell, 21, Cincinnati; Donald Page, 22, Cincinnati; Dennis Gilliam, 20, Manchester, Ky.; Richard Asbury, 26, St. Joseph, Ind.; and William Chambers, 32, Cincinnati.

'Friendly' Thief Takes $80 From Newell Resident

A Newell resident, befriended by an unknown man, is $80 poorer today, after the "'friend" stole his wallet early Sunday morning.

Edward Brown of 417 Harrison St., Newell, told police the money, contained in a wallet along with personal papers, was taken about 12:45 a.m. Sunday as he and his new acquaintance walked in Green Ln. on their way to a tavern.

Brown told officers he became acquainted with the man, described as in his early 20s, about 5 feet 10½ inches tall, light complected and clean shaven, and the two decided to walk to a nearby tavern.

While walking through the alley, Brown related, the question of money came up and Brown produced his wallet. He said the man took the wallet and ran. Along with the estimated $80 in bills, business cards and other papers were reported taken.

Patrolmen Dwight Garvey and William Copestick found the billfold early Sunday morning near a Dresden Ave. dry cleaning establishment. Brown, notified by police about 10 a.m., said a driver's license and auto registration still are missing, along with the cash.

It has been estimated that 12 million persons are afflicted with leprosy.

Happy Days Are Here Again

At 34, the homemaker in today's story felt old and frumpy. Now she has a rosy future. Here is her inspiring story:

Ida Jean Kain

"When I married at age 28 I just loved being a wife and homemaker. I enjoyed preparing elaborate meals and delicious desserts for my appreciative husband. After the birth of my second daughter I weighed 15 pounds over my pre-marriage weight. Those first five years slipped away and another 10 pounds eased on.

"When my 5-year-old started school, I felt old and frumpish in comparison with the other mothers. I fretted about this until Christmas time. It was my husband's office Christmas party that jolted me into taking action.

"ON JAN. 8 I began my project. I went to my doctor for a checkup — not for pills or injections, but for his approval to go ahead. I started with your plan of eating to build leanness. I read everything I could about diet and exercise. The encouragement in your column is what helped the most.

"By March 1 I'd lost 12 pounds. The compliments began. What a thrill! Three weeks after I began dieting I started exercising. I did, and still do every day, a combination of Yoga, calisthenics and isometrics.

"I've never felt better in my life. I recommend exercise to everyone dieting — especially those over 30. I did facial exercises, so my cheeks haven't hollowed in. My breasts didn't sag because I followed the exercises with dumbbells in your weight - training program. Also, I touched up the gray in my hair. I began giving myself facials and taking care of my nails.

Here are the before and after measurements:

Jan. 8

Height, 5'1¾ inches, Weight, 140 lbs., Bust 39 inches, Waist 31 inches, Abdomen 37 inches, Hips 40 inches.

Oct. 9

Height 5'2 inches, Weight, 117 lbs., Bust 35½ inches, Waist 25 inches, Abdomen 32½ inches, Hips, 35½ inches.

"The doctor recommends that I bring my weight to 112 pounds and hold it there. I plan to be that weight by our Christmas party. My husband is so proud of me. I can't tell you how happy and young I feel. Thank you so much for your inspiration. Tell your readers it's not hard when you have a goal and think slim," she enthused.

What a shining success story! Her slimmed - down inches almost paralleled her lost poundage. We all rejoice with this gallant young woman.

2 Weeks Almost Thing Of Past

Most American Workers Getting Longer Vacations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old two-week vacation is practically a thing of the past, the AFL-CIO says. Most American workers can get at least four weeks and in some cases up to 13 weeks of paid time off a year.

Long vacations "have spread from the university campus to the steel mill," reported the AFL-CIO's magazine, The American Federationist.

Although vacations of five to 13 weeks are rare, 60 per cent of American workers under major labor contracts get at least four weeks after a certain number of years on the job.

The report by AFL-CIO economist Rudy Oswald is based on Labor Department figures.

Extra long vacations have been written into some contracts to increase job openings for younger workers, to help older workers adjust for eventual retirement, and in some cases to avoid payless layoffs during slack business periods.

Paid holidays have also increased to seven in most cases and very frequently to nine or ten per year, Oswald said.

The United Steel Workers Union and the International Association of Machinists have negotiated agreements in the can-manufacturing industry providing 13 weeks of vacation every fifth year to workers with 15 years or more of seniority.

In the steel industry, all workers in the top half of the seniority list get 13 weeks of vacation every fifth year.

Sabbatical or extended vacations were introduced into the mainstream of collective bargaining by the Steelworkers in its negotiations of 1962 and 1963, Oswald said.

The union plan was based on the experience of university professors with sabbaticals, he said.

The United Packinghouse Workers has contracts in the sugar industry providing increasingly longer vacations to workers approaching retirement age.

At age 57 and 58, workers get six weeks of vacation. At age 59 and 60 vacations go to seven weeks and to eight weeks the next two years. At ages 63 and 64, the worker is entitled to 12 weeks off.

The Brewery Workers Union has contracts in St. Louis providing seven weeks of vacation for workers with 20 years of service and eight weeks for 25 years of seniority.

"However, the so-called extra vacations must be used during the slack winter season," Oswald said.

Over-all, 60 per cent of major union contracts provide four-week vacations after varying lengths of service, 22 per cent provide three weeks, 13 per cent provide five or more weeks and 5 per cent provide for less than three weeks.

"Twenty years ago, the majority of contracts had a maximum vacation allowance of two weeks," Oswald reported.

"Originally, American employers viewed the paid vacation and the paid holiday as a privilege appropriate only for the worker of white-collar status," he said.

White-collar workers still have the edge on vacation time but blue-collar factory workers are rapidly catching up.

Crime And Law Enforcement To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A conference on crime and law enforcement has been arranged by Rep. Jackson E. Betts, R-Ohio, to emphasize the citizen's role in helping prevent crime and juvenile delinquency.

Set for Dec. 4 in Mansfield, Ohio, the conference is to feature nearly a dozen speakers expected to give practical suggestions on how residents in Betts' congressional district can strengthen present law enforcement programs.

"This conference is designed to bring together civic leaders from every community in my district with an outstanding group of experts," Betts said.

Betts said action on law enforcement is a citizen's job and is not something which is exclusively the responsibility of police and sheriffs.

Among the scheduled speakers is William B. Saxbe, Ohio attorney general.

6 In Midland NAACP Attend County Session

Six members of the Midland Branch attended a joint meeting with the Aliquippa and Beaver Valley Branches of the NAACP Friday at the Brodhead Hotel in Beaver Falls.

Atty. Alfred Baker Lewis, national treasurer, was guest speaker. He encouraged members to write their congressmen voicing disapproval of a plan to place the anti-poverty programs in the hands of elected officials. He said a more effective welfare system is needed. He displayed two books of Negro history he said should be in libraries.

Flat Lies, Half-Truths

Journalism Society Says LBJ's Misleading Public

CHICAGO (AP) — Sigma Delta Chi, the 18,000-member professional journalism society, has criticized the Johnson administration for "deliberately misleading the public, press and the Congress through flat lies, through half-truths and through clever use of statistics that distort."

The attack came in a report Sunday by the society's national Freedom of Information Committee which accused some of the highest officials in the administration of "inaccurate and misleading statements that contradicted most of the fine words" President Johnson has spoken on freedom of information.

The report leveled some of its sharpest thrust at the State Department, Departmen of Defense, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the President's news conferences.

The report, released in advance of the society's convention Wednesday in Minneapolis, Minn., said the President's news conferences are staged in a way to make it "unlikely that he will face . . . consistent hard questioning. He has it well organized for a White House snow job."

It accused the State Department of "misusing a claim of national security for purposes of hiding or obscuring the record."

The committee, which included Washington correspondents, questioned the State Department decision in conducting a "secret hearing" in the case of Otto F. Otepka, former chief security evaluator. He was accused of improperly leaking information to congressional committees.

The report said: "The Defense Department continues to be the Washington reporter's biggest single challenge." But the report praised the department for abolishing a 1962 rule requiring Pentagon officials to report all contacts with the press.

The committee warned of "dangers inherent in the American Bar Association's efforts to restrict information on arrests, trials, and the whole criminal law enforcement area."

The report calimed the ABA's Fair Trial and Free Press Committee wants to forbid lawyers from releasing information on pending criminal cases, including prior criminal records, existence of a confession and identity of witnesses.

The SDC committee said this is "an open invitation for arbitrary actons by courts that are corrupt or blind to the necessity of avoiding undue restraints on information. . ."

Award Received By City Jaycees For Music Show

The East Liverpool Jaycees were presented a third place award for an outstanding ways and means project during an all-state meeting of the Ohio Jaycees at Toledo Saturday and Sunday.

Representing the club were Frank Moss, president, Charles Lang, Vince Laneve and Ralph Fusco of the Wellsville organization.

The award was given for the recently - completed country music show, of which Jim Lang was chairman.

Journalism Society Says LBJ's Misleading Public

CHICAGO (AP) — Sigma Delta Chi, the 18,000-member professional journalism society, has criticized the Johnson administration for "deliberately misleading the public, press and the Congress through flat lies, through half-truths and through clever use of statistics that distort."

The attack came in a report Sunday by the society's national Freedom of Information Committee which accused some of the highest officials in the administration of "inaccurate and mdleading statements that contradicted most of the fine words" President Johnson has spoken on freedom of information.

The report leveled some of its sharpest thrust at the State Department, Departmen of Defense, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the President's news conferences.

The report, released in advance of the society's convention Wednesday in Minneapolis, Minn., said the President's news conferences are staged in a way to make it "unlikely that he will face . . . consistent hard questioning. He has it well organized for a White House snow job."

It accused the State Department of "misusing a claim of national security for purposes of hiding or obscuring the record."

The committee, which included Washington correspondents, questioned the State Department decision in conducting a "secret hearing" in the case of Otto F. Otepka, former chief security evaluator. He was accused of improperly leaking information to congressional committees.

The report said: "The Defense Department continues to be the Washington reporter's biggest single challenge." But the report praised the department for abolishing a 1962 rule requiring Pentagon officials to report all contacts with the press.

The committee warned of "dangers inherent in the American Bar Association's efforts to restrict information on arrests, trials, and the whole criminal law enforcement area."

The report calimed the ABA's Fair Trial and Free Press Committee wants to forbid lawyers from releasing information on pending criminal cases, including prior criminal records, existence of a confession and identity of witnesses.

The SDC committee said this is "an open invitation for arbitrary actons by courts that are corrupt or blind to the necessity of avoiding undue restraints on information. . ."

Challenge At Sunday Services

Explain U.S. Viet Role, Minister Urges Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson spent a whirlwind weekend defending his Vietnam policies, then listened in church as a Virginia clergyman bluntly suggested the chief executive should publicly explain America's role in the war.

This challenge was put directly to Johnson by the Rev. Dr. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis during Sunday services at historic Bruton Parish church in Williamsburg, Va.

The President and Mrs. Johnson, daughter Lynda and her fiance, Marine Capt. Charles S Robb, sat in a front row pew—barely 10 feet from the Episcopal rector—as he put his questions.

The Johnson administration's public information policies came under attack a few hours later from the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, an 18,000-member professional journalism society.

The panel said in a report that some of the administration's top officials have been "deliberately misleading the public, the press and the Congress through flat lies, through half-truths and through clever use of statistics that distort." It called the President's news conferences "well organized for a White House snow job."

The report, released in advance of Sigma Delta Chi's national convention opening Wednesday in Minneapolis Minn., charged the State and Defense departments and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are the worst offenders in the public information field.

Although the President emerged from the church service with only the trace of a smile, he wasn't deterred from enjoying a pleasant autumn day in the restored colonial capital of Virginia. He went golfing, then had dinner before flying back to Washington by helicopter.

For the chief executive, the sandy-haired Dr. Lewis doubtless provided an unwanted climax to a 5,100-mile Veterans Day weekend tour that took him from Ft. Benning, Ga., to the carrier Enterprise off the California coast, then back to the East.

In appearances at military bases Friday and Saturday before going to Williamsburg, Johnson defended his Vietnam policy and appealed for united support in the war.

Dr. Lewis, however, told the President "there is a rather general consensus that something is wrong in Vietnam." The clergyman went on:

"We wonder if some logical straightforward explanation might be given without endangering whatever military or political advantage we hold-....While pledging our loyalty we ask respectfully why?"

The minister, described by parishioners as a conservative Southern Democrat with roots deep in Alabama, said:

"We are appalled that apparently this is the only war in our history which has had three times as many civilians as military casualties. It is particularly regrettable that to most nations the struggle's purpose appears as a form of neocolonialism."

He also said, in apparent reference to those who want a stepped-up war, that Americans are mystified by news reports "suggesting our brave fighting units are inhibited by directives and inadequate equipment from using their capacities to terminate the conflict successfully."

When the rector escorted Johnson to the presidential limousine after the service, shook his hand and murmured a few words, Johnson simply nodded.

Crash Damages 2 Cars, Grocery

A Lisbon man was cited for speeding after his auto hit two parked cars and a grocery store Sunday at 8 p.m. on Route 30 just east of Lisbon.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported Robert Elwyn Nicholson, 23, of Lisbon, RD 2, lost control of his 1965 sedan as he was negotiating a curve, went off the left side of the road and hit two parked cars—a 1966 sedan belonging to Felix Hicks of Summitville and a 1956 sedan owned by Samuel Faloba of Lisbon RD 2. Both cars received moderate damage.

Damage to the store has not been estimated. Witnesses said a large plate glass window was smashed and part of the siding was damaged. Nicholson's car was demolished.

CLEANING TIPS
From PRESSWELL
by Paul Seckman

● MAKE A NOTE

The next time you spill something on your clothing that dries without leaving any apparent stain, be sure to make at least a mental note of the location of the spot. Many spots or stains, which apparently are harmless or colorless, can become real problems if they come in contact with heat. When rounding up your soiled clothing for cleaning, be sure you tell Presswell WHAT it was that you spilled and WHERE you spilled it. The easy way is to pin a note to the garment on the location of the spot and tell him what happened.

● CLOTHES HANGER IDEAS

Clothes care after wear is just as important to the life of your wardrobe as frequent drycleaning. Garments should be placed on hangers that are shaped for particular articles of clothing. Use shaped wooden or plastic hangers for skirts, and pants-hangers for trousers. Don't hang sweaters or knits. Lay them flat in a drawer. If you need a shaped hanger and one isn't handy, try this: Take six or eight of the thin metal hangers PRESSWELL sends your clothes home on. Bind them together with string or tape. Together they are as thick as a shaped wooden hanger and will serve until one is available.

Steel Output May Hit High

CLEVELAND (AP)—Business is picking up in the steel industry and shipments for the last three months of 1967 could be higher than any other three-month period this year, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly cited as reasons the settlement of the steel haulers' strike, settlement of the strike against the Ford Motor Co. and build up of inventories by "both steel plants and users as a hedge against a steelworkers' strike next year.

Improved shipments, however, depend on whether further strikes can be avoided in the auto industry, Steel said. "Until agreements are signed and sealed with Chrysler Corp. and General Motors Corp., the outlook will be hazy."

Steel said fourth quarter shipments will top 21 million tons and may even reach 22 million tons. This compares with 20 million in the quarter ended last Sept. 30, 21 million in the second quarter and 21.4 million in the first three months of the year.

The higher figures have been helped by an unexpected surge in construction steel demand in some parts of the country, Steel said. Also, demand for sheet steel is setting the pace and this reflects "the stepped-up auto requirements," the magazine added.

The producing mills' stockpile on Oct. 1 held a record 19.9 million net tons—11.1 million in steel in process and 8.8 million in finished products, according to the latest government report on steel inventories.

Lower Level First Floor Second Floor

THIS UNUSUAL A-FRAME plan adds an L wing to give two bedrooms on the first floor with two more on the balcony level. A living-dining room has one big fireplace and on the lower level there is a recreation room with another. It's a good design for a vacation or year-round home. Appliances Demand Care

By The Associated Press

Household appliances are chosen not only for their timesaving efficiency, but for their attractive lines and brightly-colored surface finishes.

Today you can buy a freezer in ice blue, a refrigerator in snow - white, a washer in seagreen, a dryer in desert-beige and a range in a variety of colors. Wehther your appliances are creamy white, avocado green or plum purple, they deserve a certain amount of care to maintain their handsome appearance.

The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association of Washington, D. C., advises that any spills be wiped up immediately. And, since dirt and grease may stain or discolor a finish, you should wash the appliance surface thoroughly at regular intervals. Be sure to use only mild soap and water for washing — not an abrasive cleaning compound which might mar the finish. Wipe the surface dry with a soft, lint - free cloth. To give the finish additional brilliance, you can wax or polish it — using only products specifically recommended by the appliance manufacturer.

SINCE HOT pots and pans, knives and other sharp surfaces can seriously damage a finish, care should be taken to avoid letting such objects come in direct contact with your appliances. Keep an asbestos tray next to your cooking area and ironing board so that you won't be tempted to place hot articles on your range or washing machine.

If an appliance finish should become accidentally marred, there are steps you can take to repair the damage. Slight mars and scratches that do not cut through to the metal can sometimes be buffed out by using an extra - fine, automotive enamel - type rubbing compound.

These compounds are available in reputable hardware, auto supply and appliance stores, and should be used very carefully. It is easy to mar the finish if too much pressure is applied when buffing. Wax the buffed surface with a quality product recommended by the manufacturer of your appliance.

For more serious nicks and scratches, touch - up kits often can be purchased from the service department of the appliance manufacturer. These have been formulated for use on specific surfaces and will provide the best match if you're working on a colored surface.

QUALITY "touch - up enamels" are also available at hardware, auto supply and appliance stores for do - it - yourself repair jobs. You may choose from aerosol sprays, "stick" applicators, or small bottles with brush applicators — whichever best suits your job. Be sure to carefully read the label directions and follow them to the letter.

It's a good idea to test a small patch of the touch - up finish on an inconspicuous area of your appliance to properly match not only colors, but various shades of white — and be sure it will adhere properly to the surface.

Given proper care, the original finish should last the lifetime of the appliance. If, for various reasons, you wish to completely refinish an appliance —consult the manufacturer first. Although some appliance refinishing enamels are available for do-it-yourself brush or spray application, many manufacturers suggest that you engage an experienced, professional refinisher for best results.

Question: We bought some new wood panels a few months ago for finishing an attic room, but never got around to doing the job.

Now that we are about to start, we find that there are dust and dirt marks all over the wood. Since we plan on varnishing the panels, we want to be sure the surfaces are clean but do not want to use any cleaner that will mar them. What is your suggestion?

Answer: Denatured alcohol will do the trick very well. First use a clean, lintless cloth saturated in the alcohol. If rubbing with the wet cloth takes out the dirt, well and good. If not, use steel wood and denatured alcohol instead of the cloth. In either case, wear rubber gloves; be sure there is plenty of ventilation in the room, and do not smoke while you are working.

Ohio Industrial Wares On Display In Brazil

Question: We are having some plywood kitchen cabinets installed. We found that it was cheaper to use unfinished plywood. Besides, we felt that we would like to try our hand at finishing the cabinets, probably with a semigloss enamel. Can you give us some tips about this?

—:—

ANSWER: the first thing to do is to remove all the pulls, latches and other hardware on the outside of the cabinets. If you are careful, it will not be necessary to take off the inside hardware.

No matter how smooth the plywood appears to be, it should be sanded again, using a fine grade of sandpaper and being sure to wipe off all grit after the sanding is completed.

Now examine the wood carefully and see whether there are any nail holes or cracks that have to be filled. Use a wood putty or some other type of crack filler.

When the filler has hardened completely, sand it level with the surrounding surface. If any of the filler has shrunk, it may be necessary to apply a little more to that particular spot, again being sure to sand smooth.

Apply a coat of white enamel undercoater, preferably of the same brand as the semigloss enamel that is to be applied.

When the undercoater has dried thoroughly, sand it lightly. If you use a waterproof type of sandpaper, there is likely to be less dust. The sandpaper should be moistened regularly with water.

We repeat: sand lightly so that you remove only irregularities and not the undercoater itself. Go ahead with one or two coats of the semigloss enamel. Some experienced workers prefer to use two coats of undercoater and one of the final coat.

Before you start, ask your contractor whether the plywood is fir. If it is, then the undercoater should be of a special type made especially for fir plywood. Hardware stores carry it. If it is any other plywood, then the regular enamel undercoater will do.

Steel Output May Hit High

CLEVELAND (AP)—Business is picking up in the steel industry and shipments for the last three months of 1967 could be higher than any other three-month period this year, Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly cited as reasons the settlement of the steel haulers' strike, settlement of the strike against the Ford Motor Co. and build up of inventories by "both steel plants and users as a hedge against a steelworkers' strike next year.

Improved shipments, however, depend on whether further strikes can be avoided in the auto industry, Steel said. "Until agreements are signed and sealed with Chrysler Corp. and General Motors Corp., the outlook will be hazy."

Steel said fourth quarter shipments will top 21 million tons and may even reach 22 million tons. This compares with 20 million in the quarter ended last Sept. 30, 21 million in the second quarter and 21.4 million in the first three months of the year.

The higher figures have been helped by an unexpected surge in construction steel demand in some parts of the country, Steel said. Also, demand for sheet steel is setting the pace and this reflects "the stepped-up auto requirements," the magazine added.

The producing mills' stockpile on Oct. 1 held a record 19.9 million net tons—11.1 million in steel in process and 8.8 million in finished products, according to the latest government report on steel inventories.

The total is 500,000 tons larger than the Sept. 1 figure and 1,800,000 tons above the year-ago inventory," Steel said

World's Largest Dragline

Monster Digging Machine Being Assembled In Ohio

CUMBERLAND, Ohio (AP)—A monster digging machine being assembled here is so gargantuan that 350 railroad cars are being used just to deliver the parts.

It will be the world's largest dragline, costing $20.8 million, to be used 35 years in stripping overburden (material covering deposits of coal) from a 100,000-acre coal field extending through Noble, Guernsey, Muskingum and Morgan counties in southeastern Ohio.

The machine will be as tall as a 32 - story building and will weigh 27 million pounds -- as much as 13,500 automobiles or 150 commercial jetliners.

Its bucket, with a bite of 220 cubic yards, easily could hold 12 autos.

The electricity it will use could supply the power needs of 27,500 homes or pull 10 average freight trains, each requiring three locomotives.

"Big Muskie," as it will be known, will be capable of digging to a depth of 185 feet -- deep enough to have dug Lake Erie.

When the monster comes to life in the fall of 1968, one of the first things it will do will be to start "breathing"--about one million cubic feet of air every minute. That much air could fill a 135 - foot balloon every 60 seconds. It's needed for ventilation.

Because of its tremendous weight, Big Muskie is being built on its own reinforced concrete launch pad some 110 feet wide. Its parts are shipped on precision scheduled from the South Milwaukee, Wis., plant of Bucyrus-Erie Co., the monster's creator.

The monster will walk on hydraulic shoes 20 feet wide and 130 feet long. Its steps will be 14 feet long.

Its daily diet will be 150,000 tons of earth and rock. It will gobble up 325 tons of overburden every minute.

The coal produced could provide enough electricity to supply the power needs of every home in Ohio for 25 years.

Canton's Ohio Power Co. and its subsidiary, Central Ohio Coal Co., conceived Big Muskie to guarantee a coal supply for the power company's plants at Philo and Beverly.

The mechanical monster, costing as much as three jetliners, will be operated by one man.

Injuries Prove Fatal To Ohio Youngster

Federal Official Completes Probe Of Plane Crash

CINCINNATI (AP)—Federal investigator George Green wrapped up a field probe of a jet passenger plane crash near here Nov. 6 and said he would go to Washington today to discuss the findings with other investigators.

Green conducted an investigation for the National Transportation Safety Bureau and said that crews of three planes had been questioned, "but we're a long way from finished."

He said the crews' statements concerning the aborted crash takeoff of a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 jet would not be released until a complete investigation has ended.

The jet plunged off a runway at Greater Cincinnati Airport at Florence, Ky., and skidded through several hundred feet of mud to a halt on a county road.

None of the seven crew members nor 29 passengers aboard was seriously hurt at the time, but one passenger Marion Rosenthal, 70, Cincinnati, died Nov. 10. The official cause of her death was not known.

World's Largest Dragline

Monster Digging Machine Being Assembled In Ohio

CUMBERLAND, Ohio (AP)—A monster digging machine being assembled here is so gargantuan that 350 railroad cars are being used just to deliver the parts.

It will be the world's largest dragline, costing $20.8 million, to be used 35 years in stripping overburden (material covering deposits of coal) from a 100,000-acre coal field extending through Noble, Guernsey, Muskingum and Morgan counties in southeastern Ohio.

The machine will be as tall as a 32 - story building and will weigh 27 million pounds – as much as 13,500 automobiles or 150 commercial jetliners.

Its bucket, with a bite of 220 cubic yards, easily could hold 12 autos.

The electricity it will use could supply the power needs of 27,500 homes or pull 10 average freight trains, each requiring three locomotives.

"Big Muskie," as it will be known, will be capable of digging to a depth of 185 feet -- deep enough to have dug Lake Erie.

When the monster comes to life in the fall of 1968, one of the first things it will do will be to start "breathing"--about one million cubic feet of air every minute. That much air could fill a 135 - foot balloon every 60 seconds. It's needed for ventilation.

Because of its tremendous weight, Big Muskie is being built on its own reinforced concrete launch pad some 110 feet wide. Its parts are shipped on precision scheduled from the South Milwaukee, Wis., plant of Bucyrus-Erie Co., the monster's creator.

The monster will walk on hydraulic shoes 20 feet wide and 130 feet long. Its steps will be 14 feet long.

Its daily diet will be 150,000 tons of earth and rock. It will gobble up 325 tons of overburden every minute.

The coal produced could provide enough electricity to supply the power needs of every home in Ohio for 25 years.

Canton's Ohio Power Co. and its subsidiary, Central Ohio Coal Co., conceived Big Muskie to guarantee a coal supply for the power company's plants at Philo and Beverly.

The mechanical monster, costing as much as three jetliners, will be operated by one man.

Federal Official Completes Probe Of Plane Crash

CINCINNATI (AP)—Federal investigator George Green wrapped up a field probe of a jet passenger plane crash near here Nov. 6 and said he would go to Washington today to discuss the findings with other investigators.

Green conducted an investigation for the National Transportation Safety Bureau and said that crews of three planes had been questioned, "but we're a long way from finished."

He said the crews' statements concerning the aborted crash takeoff of a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 jet would not be released until a complete investigation has ended.

The jet plunged off a runway at Greater Cincinnati Airport at Florence, Ky., and skidded through several hundred feet of mud to a halt on a county road.

None of the seven crew members nor 29 passengers aboard was seriously hurt at the time, but one passenger Marion Rosenthal, 70, Cincinnati, died Nov. 10. The official cause of her death was not known.

Injuries Prove Fatal To Ohio Youngster

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is 38 and looking forward to at least another 62 years but the last two months have been hell and I'd like to tell you about it.

The night Jack was graduated from high school a fortune teller told him he'd die before his 38th birthday. Jack didn't think anything of it and neither did I. But the thought was always in the back of our minds and every once in awhile he'd say, "Isn't it ridiculous?"

On Jack's 37th birthday a friend offered this toast at a party: "Make the most of every day, Jack, because 38 is mighty old — and the end is in sight." It was meant as a joke (people had brought crutches and false teeth as gag gifts), but that toast made a wreck of us both.

Two months ago we were driving home from a party. It was foggy and the hour was late. Suddenly Jack's brakes gave out and we narrowly missed hitting an oncoming car. A moment before he swerved he shouted, "My God, the fortune teller was right!"

The next eight weeks were sheer torture. Jack refused to go anywhere but to work and to church. One night he had a mild case of indigestion and he was sure it was a heart attack. Another night his neck ached and he knew he had polio. The following day he was certain an ingrown hair on his face was "skin cancer."

Jack went to the doctor's office five times in seven weeks. I lost 6 pounds. He lost 8.

I write this letter, Ann Landers, on the day following Jack's 38th birthday. You'll never know how thankful we are to be leading normal lives again. But we'll never forget the agonies we suffered — and it was all so unnecessary.

The reason for this letter is to plead with all fortune tellers not to predict death. In the first place, no one knows how many years a person will live — he can only guess, but the fear of dying can hasten death through anxiety or accident. — FREE AT LAST.

Dear Free: Your letter makes a great deal of sense and now I'm bracing myself for the inevitable avalanche of letters from readers eager to recount personal experiences of death predictions which came true. To all of you I say in advance, it was a coincidence that your Uncle Heathcliff died on the day Cousin Anastasia predicted, so save your stamps.

Nonsmokers Creed

Dear Ann: I'm only 13 and I have a lot to learn but I think I have something worthwhile to pass on to some of your readers who are much older than I.

I liked the letter from the woman whose husband gave her "the best birthday gift in the world." He quit smoking.

I've heard many people say they would give anything if they could quit but they are hooked. Well, here's a poem that may be corny but all smokers ought to cut it out and carry it in the same pocket in which they used to carry their cigarettes.

Did is a word of achievement,
Won't is a word of retreat,
Might is a word of bereavement,
Can't is a word of defeat,
Ought is a word of duty,
Try is a word of each hour,
Will is a word of beauty,
Can is a word of power.

-:-

Dear ABC: Corny or not, it's good. So I'll husk it and print it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Funeral Rites To Be Today For Hulbert Taft, 60

CINCINNATI (AP) — Broadcasting executive Hulbert Taft Jr., killed Friday by a blast that ripped through a bomb shelter at his estate, will be buried here today in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Funeral services for the 60-year-old board chairman of Taft Broadcasting Co. will be in St. Thomas Episcopal Church at suburban Terrace Park near his Indian Hill estate.

Taft's body was found Friday night following three hours of digging in the rubble of the bomb shelter near his house.

Equipment normally used in construction work was utilized to help uncover the body of Taft, a member of Ohio's famous Taft family.

The official cause of the explosion is still not known but Sgt. Robert Brakvill of the Indian Hill Rangers said a spark may have touched off gas fumes in the shelter.

He said an investigation so far shows that Taft apparently smelled a propane gas leak from tanks outside the shelter and "pulled a fuse block to cut off electricity" there which developed a spark.

"A fuse block was found near Mr. Taft's hand when the body was uncovered," the sergeant said.

16 Pennsy RR Cars Derail Near Mansfield

Xavier U. Official Heads National Group

Stokes Takes Oath Today At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Carl B. Stokes will be sworn in today as the first Negro mayor of Cleveland.

Meanwhile, Republican Seth C. Taft, who lost the mayoral race to Stokes by only 1,644 votes, meets with aides to decide whether to ask for a recount.

Stokes, a Democrat, is to be sworn in by Municipal Court Judge Anthony A. Rutkowski at City Hall.

Some Taft supporters reportedly have contributed money to influence a recount, but Taft is said to be less enthusiastic.

The unofficial tally in Tuesday's election had Stokes the winner by 2,051 votes, but he lost 857 votes in the official count.

Stokes and his wife, Shirley, took a weekend vacation at Miami Beach, returning Sunday night. He did have one item of business to dispose of during the weekend. He resigned from the state House of Representatives in a telegram to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Returning to Cleveland, Stokes announced that B. W. Maxey, retired vice chairman of the board of the Glidden Co., will head a committee which will supervise an audit of the city's finances.

The 58-year-old Maxey headed a Little Hoover Commission task force which recommended that the city adopt an income tax—which council did last year. He was one of the first Cleveland businessmen to come out in support of Stokes.

Stokes said the committee also will check to see if there was any unnecessary hiring during the last 90 days.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is 38 and looking forward to at least another 62 years but the last two months have been hell and I'd like to tell you about it.

The night Jack was graduated from high school a fortune teller told him he'd die before his 38th birthday. Jack didn't think anything of it and neither did I. But the thought was always in the back of our minds and every once in awhile he'd say, "Isn't it ridiculous?"

On Jack's 37th birthday a friend offered this toast at a party: "Make the most of every day, Jack, because 38 is mighty old — and the end is in sight." It was meant as a joke (people had brought crutches and false teeth as gag gifts), but that toast made a wreck of us both.

Two months ago we were driving home from a party. It was foggy and the hour was late. Suddenly Jack's brakes gave out and we narrowly missed hitting an oncoming car. A moment before he swerved he shouted, "My God, the fortune teller was right!"

The next eight weeks were sheer torture. Jack refused to go anywhere but to work and to church. One night he had a mild case of indigestion and he was sure it was a heart attack. Another night his neck ached and he knew he had polio. The following day he was certain an ingrown hair on his face was "skin cancer."

Jack went to the doctor's office five times in seven weeks. I lost 6 pounds. He lost 8.

I write this letter, Ann Landers, on the day following Jack's 38th birthday. You'll never know how thankful we are to be leading normal lives again. But we'll never forget the agonies we suffered — and it was all so unnecessary.

The reason for this letter is to plead with all fortune tellers not to predict death. In the first place, no one knows how many years a person will live — he can only guess, but the fear of dying can hasten death through anxiety or accident. — FREE AT LAST.

Dear Free: Your letter makes a great deal of sense and now I'm bracing myself for the inevitable avalanche of letters from readers eager to recount personal experiences of death predictions which came true. To all of you I say in advance, it was a coincidence that your Uncle Heathcliff died on the day Cousin Anastasia predicted, so save your stamps.

Nonsmokers Creed

Dear Ann: I'm only 13 and I have a lot to learn but I think I have something worthwhile to pass on to some of your readers who are much older than I.

I liked the letter from the woman whose husband gave her "the best birthday gift in the world." He quit smoking.

I've heard many people say they would give anything if they could quit but they are hooked. Well, here's a poem that may be corny but all smokers ought to cut it out and carry it in the same pocket in which they used to carry their cigarettes.

Did is a word of achievement,
Won't is a word of retreat,
Might is a word of bereavement,
Can't is a word of defeat,
Ought is a word of duty,
Try is a word of each hour,
Will is a word of beauty,
Can is a word of power.
—ABC

Dear ABC: Corny or not, it's good. So I'll husk it and print it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Funeral Rites To Be Today For Hulbert Taft, 60

CINCINNATI (AP) — Broadcasting executive Hulbert Taft Jr., killed Friday by a blast that ripped through a bomb shelter at his estate, will be buried here today in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Funeral services for the 60-year-old board chairman of Taft Broadcasting Co. will be in St. Thomas Episcopal Church at suburban Terrace Park near his Indian Hill estate.

Taft's body was found Friday night following three hours of digging in the rubble of the bomb shelter near his house.

Equipment normally used in construction work was utilized to help uncover the body of Taft, a member of Ohio's famous Taft family.

The official cause of the explosion is still not known but Sgt. Robert Brakvill of the Indian Hill Rangers said a spark may have touched off gas fumes in the shelter.

He said an investigation so far shows that Taft apparently smelled a propane gas leak from tanks outside the shelter and "pulled a fuse block to cut off electricity" there which developed a spark.

16 Pennsy RR Cars Derail Near Mansfield

Stokes Takes Oath Today At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Carl B. Stokes will be sworn in today as the first Negro mayor of Cleveland.

Meanwhile, Republican Seth C. Taft, who lost the mayoral race to Stokes by only 1,644 votes, meets with aides to decide whether to ask for a recount.

Stokes, a Democrat, is to be sworn in by Municipal Court Judge Anthony A. Rutkowski at City Hall.

Some Taft supporters reportedly have contributed money to influence a recount, but Taft is said to be less enthusiastic.

The unofficial tally in Tuesday's election had Stokes the winner by 2,051 votes, but he lost 857 votes in the official count.

Stokes and his wife, Shirley, took a weekend vacation at Miami Beach, returning Sunday night. He did have one item of business to dispose of during the weekend. He resigned from the state House of Representatives in a telegram to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Returning to Cleveland, Stokes announced that B. W. Maxey, retired vice chairman of the board of the Glidden Co., will head a committee which will supervise an audit of the city's finances.

The 58-year-old Maxey headed a Little Hoover Commission task force which recommended that the city adopt an income tax—which council did last year. He was one of the first Cleveland businessmen to come out in support of Stokes.

Stokes said the committee also will check to see if there was any unnecessary hiring during the last 90 days.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The last three weeks the Potters have played excellent football against tough opposition. An 8-1 season certainly has to be regarded as satisfactory. This was a very fine football team. Tomorrow the state rankings will be published and people will tend to judge how good a team it is by how high it is ranked, but this is not necessarily a valid criteria. Probably none of the people voting in the AP poll, except myself, saw the team play this season. Few writers would see more than two or three of the top-ranked teams that they vote for in a season, but this doesn't stop them from voting for teams they don't see play. Unfortunately, the polls are influenced a great deal by politics and sectionalism, making them less valid than they might be. A highly-ranked team is a tribute as much to the propaganda productiveness of the school, as it is to the caliber of the football team.

WITHOUT DOWNGRADING the East Liverpool marching band, which has done a fine job this year, we have to mention that the Alliance band is just sensational. I've never seen a band, in high school or college, as impressive as Alliance's.

WITH THE DEFEAT of Southern California and North Carolina State over the weekend it appears that the national collegiate grid champion this season will not be an unbeaten, untied team. There are only two schools left with unblemished records, Indiana and Wyoming. Indiana has won several games in miraculous fashion with late comebacks, and has two tough games left, Minnesota and Purdue. Wyoming, which may be able to beat any team in the country, does not quite have the schedule of many big teams. The Cowboys have a tough assignment this week at pass-happy, once-beaten University of Texas at El Paso.

UCLA IS UNBEATEN, but tied once. The Uclans have beaten Tennessee, ranked second last week, and may move to the top after their 48-0 rout of highly-regarded Washington. Purdue, which continues to win impressively, will get strong support. And Oregon State, which has beaten Purdue and tied UCLA besides edging Southern Cal, is sure to get a lot of votes. It's certainly a banner year for West Coast football, with the Big 10 and Southwest conferences having very bad years and the South only a mediocre season by the standards of the last few years. Penn State's thrilling win over North Carolina State helped boost the football prestige of the East, which is showing signs of a mild resurgence.

T. Williams Stars For Green Bay

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay rookie Travis Williams couldn't believe it. Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier didn't want to. And, as usual, Packer Coach Vince Lombardi had the last word.

"That's been our history. The Packers always rise to the occasion," said Lombardi after the Packers, led by Williams' record-tying heroics, stunned Cleveland 55-7 Sunday.

"When we've had an injury," Lombardi added, "we always play a little better."

The Packers had the injuries—starting running backs Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts are out—and they certainly played well, running up a 35-7 first-period margin and romping in from there.

Baltimore remained unbeaten and on top of the Coastal Division with a 49-7 romp over Atlanta, with Johnny Unitas providing a spectacular passing game and the Colts showing no letdown after the previous week's important victory over Green Bay.

Dallas moved three games in front in the Capitol Division standings after a 27-10 decision over New Orleans, while St. Louis maintained a precarious hold on the Century Division lead with a 14-14 tie with Pittsburgh.

Chicago humbled New York 34-7, Minnesota and Detroit battled to a 10-10 tie, Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 33-17 and Washington clipped San Francisco 31-28 in the other NFL games.

In the AFL, New York whipped Buffalo 20-10, Houston held off Denver 20-18, Kansas City romped over Boston 33-10 and San Diego shutout Miami 24-0.

"I couldn't believe it was happening," Williams said after returning kickoffs for touchdowns on runs of 87 and 85 yards for the Packers. His feat matched the league record of two kickoff returns for touchdowns set last year by Philadelphia's Timmy Brown.

And the 35 points run up by the Packers in the first period set a league record.

"The story of the game," Lombardi insisted, however, "was Bart Starr." Starr completed 14 of 21 passes for 249 yards and two touchdowns.

"I still don't know what happened," said the dazed Collier. "I think we wanted to win so badly we were too tight and couldn't play our game."

Colt quarterback Unitas played his game—perhaps even a little above his usual outstanding performance. He completed 17 of 20 throws for 370 yards and four touchdowns, the scores coming on plays covering 25, 11, 64 and 5 yards, in the rout of Atlanta.

End Frank Clarke, who lined up in the backfield on a tight-I formation, broke open the game for Dallas, racing 56 yards for a touchdown that put the Cowboys in front of New Orleans 17-0. They coasted in from there.

Pittsburgh, with quarterback Bill Nelsen calling the shots, moved 90 yards in nine plays in the last minute of play to gain the tie with St. Louis. Nelson capped it with a six-yard toss to Roy Jefferson. St. Louis, however, remained one-half game in front of Cleveland.

Detroit established a negative record, fumbling 11 times, in the tie with Minnesota, an offensive nightmare for both teams. Mel Farr carried 24 times for 197 yards for the Lions, who tied it on Wayne Walker's 12-yard field goal in the third period.

Sub quarterback Larry Rakestraw was the big gun for the Bears against stumbling New York. Rakestraw flipped scoring passes of 23, 18 and 6 yards and scored twice himself. Defensive tackle Frank Cornish set up three touchdowns by intercepting two Frank Tarkenton passes and recovering a fumble.

Sonny Jurgensen passed for three touchdowns, the last a 15-yarder to Jerry Smith with 7:01 remaining, in Washington's comeback against San Francisco. He completed 22 of 41 for 291 yards. The Redskins scored twice in the third period, both after fumble recoveries.

The Rams rushed in 20 points in the second quarter, breaking it open against Philadelphia. Bruce Gossett kicked field goals of 21, 12, 27 and 31 yards for the winners, and Roman Gabriel passed for two touchdowns.

THE GAME WAS A TRAVIS-TY. Travis Williams, Green Bay Packer back, gets away from Jim Copeland (64) of the Cleveland Browns in running the opening kickoff back 87 yards for a TD. Williams ran back another kickoff 85 yards for a TD in the first period as the Packers rolled up a 35-7 first quarter advantage en route to a 55-7 win. (UPI Telephoto)

Surprising Fort Marcy Wins Laurel International

When the 1½-mile turf race was over at Laurel race course Saturday, Fort Marcy had scored the biggest victory of his flip-flop career and earned $90,000 for owner Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable.

Ycaza, the Panamanian who reigns as the world's most suspended jockey, wound up as the only three-time winner of the International. What's more, he's never lost—having previously won in 1959 and 1960 aboard Bald Eagle.

Damascus, who had won 12 of 15 previous starts in 1967 on the way to certain Horse of the Year honors, failed by a nose in his first grass race but only after a stirring stretch duel which outdistanced seven foreign horses.

Tobin Bronze, the Australian representative who will now race in California under the silks of new American owners, finished 2½ lengths behind in third place. Canada's He's A Smoothie, the early leader of a slow pace, wound up fourth.

The rest of the field, in order, included Speed Symboli of Japan, Caseque Grise of France, Ribocco of England, Venezuela's Chateaubriand and another English entry, In Command.

"Manuel bugged me into letting him ride the horse when I really didn't think we had a shot at beating Damascus," Burch said. "He had more confidence than I did. I thought Damascus was unbeatable.

"I kept putting him off, since I had some other commitments. But now you can't imagine how glad I am that I picked this guy."

Fort Marcy was a flop as a 2-year-old, winning only one of 10 starts and $5,300.

OSU Edges Wisconsin For First Win At Home

By SAM DOBBINS
Associated Press Writer

The victory bell in Ohio Stadium finally chimed out good news for the first time since late last season.

Ohio State, in claiming a 17-15 victory over Wisconsin on a big Ohio college football Saturday, also raised its season mark to 4-3 and now stands 3-2 in the Big Ten.

The same also goes for Ohio University, more or less.

Also deserving mention is Ohio Wesleyan, which has earned at least a share of the Ohio Conference title by virtue of a 23-21 victory over Mount Union.

It was a rain-soaked affair at Ohio Stadium as only 65,470 fans waded inside to watch the Buckeyes turn back a stubborn Wisconsin attack.

But rally-minded quarterback Bill Long scrambled for touchdowns twice and Gary Cairns kicked two extra points and converted a 19-yard field goal to pace the Buckeye attack.

The Badgers failed to capitalize on extra point plays after quarterback John Boyajian hurled two touchdown strikes, including a 51-yard bomb to Dick Schumitsch.

The Badgers rallied in the third period when Tom Schinke booted a 42-yard field goal and Boyajian connected on the long aerial with Schumitsch to take a 15-10 advantage.

But in the final period, Long guided Ohio State 87 yards in seven plays, including a 60-yard aerial to his favorite target, split end Billy Anders.

Thanks to Kent State, Ohio University, which plastered Bowling Green 31-7, shares the MAC crown with Toledo. Both were 5-1.

Ohio got back into the title race when Kent had to forfeit its early season 21-14 victory over the Bobcats because of an ineligible player.

Dick Conley scored two touchdowns to pace Ohio U. in manhandling the BeeGees while Toledo was pasting nonconference foe Northern Illinois 35-0.

Wesleyan then picked up two points when Mount Union's Phil Monroe fell down in the end zone for an intentional safety. After taking a punt, the Bishops started their winning drive.

Dayton, which had not beaten Miami since 1959, won a 7-6 squeaker on a 1-yard touchdown plunge in the second quarter. Bob Thomas' point after was the margin of victory.

Great Upsetter Oregon St. Will Not Go To Rose Bowl

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oregon State had its moments in Lafayette, Los Angeles and Corvallis. It will not have any in Pasadena.

The Pacific Eight's Rose Bowl representative will be decided Saturday when UCLA meets Southern California. The Beavers, now out of the race for the conference title, will simply have to console themselves with the thought that they tied one and beat the other.

Oregon State added a 3-0 victory over top-ranked Southern Cal last Saturday in Corvallis, Ore., to its tie with UCLA, then No. 2, in Los Angeles and its victory over Purdue, also No. 2 at the time, in Lafayette, Ind.

But the vagaries of the schedule and an early conference loss to Washington will keep the Beavers out of the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal will go if it beats UCLA. The Bruins will play if they win or tie.

A 30-yard field goal in the second quarter and a defense that let O.J. Simpson do everything but score got the Beavers the victory "that certainly ought to break us into the Top Ten," according to Coach Dee Andros.

Indiana looks more and more like the Big Ten Rose Bowl representative, coming from behind Saturday to beat Michigan State 14-13. The sixth-ranked Hoosiers scored late on a drive led by John Isenbarger and ended by his eight-yard touchdown run.

UCLA, No. 4, tuned up for its nationally televised battle with Southern Cal by pounding Washington 48-0. Gary Beban threw three touchdown passes and scored once himself. The USC-UCLA battle is on ABC-TV at 4 p.m., EST.

North Carolina State, rated third before the weekend, missed a golden opportunity to move up, bowing 13-8 to Penn State. Tennessee, No. 2, rolled over Tulane 35-14 behind Dewey Warren's passing and Walter Chadwick's running

Wyoming, No. 7, remained unbeaten, blasting New Mexico 42-6. Jerry DePoyster's four field goals in the game gave him a career total of 175, an NCAA record. Purdue, No. 5, beat Minnesota 41-12, staying tied with Indiana for the Big Ten lead with a 5-0 league mark.

Oklahoma, No. 8, took over the lead in the Big Eight race, burying Iowa State 52-14, as previously unbeaten Kansas fell to Colorado 12-8. Notre Dame, No. 9, crushed Pitt 38-0 with Terry Hanratty running for two touchdowns. Houston, No. 10, beat Memphis State 35-18.

Ironmen Win Statistics, Lose Game

Norfolk and Orlando are top dogs in the northern and southern sections of the Continental Football League's Eastern Division following their respective victories last weekend over Hartford and Charleston.

The Neptunes downed Hartford 43-21 as Norfolk's Don Henning three four touchdown passes of 27, 17, 47 and nine yards.

Orlando scored a 28-21 victory over underdog Charleston. The Panthers broke a 14-14 tie in the third quarter when Bill Jenkins blocked a punt and linebacker Bob Green picked up the ball to score with a seven-yard run.

Wheeling won everything but its game against Montreal. Although the Ironmen were defeated 17-14, they racked up 352 yards in total offense compared to Montreal's 195 yards.

Gino Berretta broke a 14-14 tie with only nine seconds left in the game by booting a 22-yard field goal.

Pierce Grabs Lead In Tight Yogi Race

With one week to go in the race among the Review Grid Yogis, three staffers are in the running for "seer of the year" honors.

Turk Pierce, who was with the consensus pick in every instance this week, chalked up a 7-2 mark, with the Steelers-Cardinals 14-14 tie thrown out. He took over the lead from Rose Nuzzo, who slipped to 5-4. Also with a chance is Bob Shaffer, who went 6-3 to fall two games behind Pierce. Bob Duffy matched Shaffer's mark, but trails by eight games and Tom Futhey, with a 4-5 record, is seven back. Bob Poole went 5-4 and dropped into the cellar.

The two games that everyone missed on were East Palestine's 14-10 triumph over Columbiana and Oregon State's 3-0 upset of Southern Cal. Everyone was right on Purdue, a 41-12 winner over Minnesota, and Lisbon, which took United 41-18. Only Poole was wrong with Bowling Green, which was trounced 32-7 by Ohio U. (Duffy's still celebrating), and Poole and Futhey fell with Beaver Local, beaten 21-6 by Oak Glen.

Duffy and Shaffer missed on Alliance, which was nipped 14-8 by East Liverpool, and Futhey and Nuzzo were wrong on both North Carolina State, a 14-8 victim of Penn State, and the Browns, walloped 55-7 by the Packers.

The East Liverpool High School football team made a tremendous comeback in the face of heavy odds to win at Alliance Friday night.

The last three weeks the Potters have played excellent football against tough opposition. An 8-1 season certainly has to be regarded as satisfactory. This was a very fine football team. Tomorrow the state rankings will be published and people will tend to judge how good a team it is by how high it is ranked, but this is not necessarily a valid criteria. Probably none of the people voting in the AP poll, except myself, saw the team play this season. Few writers would see more than two or three of the top-ranked teams that they vote for in a season, but this doesn't stop them from voting for teams they don't see play. Unfortunately, the polls are influenced a great deal by politics and sectionalism, making them less valid than they might be. A highly-ranked team is a tribute as much to the propaganda productiveness of the school, as it is to the caliber of the football team.

WITHOUT DOWNGRADING the East Liverpool marching band, which has done a fine job this year, we have to mention that the Alliance band is just sensational. I've never seen a band, in high school or college, as impressive as Alliance's.

WITH THE DEFEAT of Southern California and North Carolina State over the weekend it appears that the national collegiate grid champion this season will not be an unbeaten, untied team. There are only two schools left with unblemished records, Indiana and Wyoming. Indiana has won several games in miraculous fashion with late comebacks, and has two tough games left, Minnesota and Purdue. Wyoming, which may be able to beat any team in the country, does not quite have the schedule of many big teams. The Cowboys have a tough assignment this week at pass-happy, once-beaten University of Texas at El Paso.

UCLA IS UNBEATEN, but tied once. The Uclans have beaten Tennessee, ranked second last week, and may move to the top after their 48-0 rout of highly-regarded Washington. Purdue, which continues to win impressively, will get strong support. And Oregon State, which has beaten Purdue and tied UCLA besides edging Southern Cal, is sure to get a lot of votes. It's certainly a banner year for West Coast football, with the Big 10 and Southwest conferences having very bad years and the South only a mediocre season by the standards of the last few years. Penn State's thrilling win over North Carolina State helped boost the football prestige of the East, which is showing signs of a mild resurgence.

T. Williams Stars For Green Bay

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay rookie Travis Williams couldn't believe it. Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier didn't want to. And, as usual, Packer Coach Vince Lombardi had the last word.

"That's been our history. The Packers always rise to the occasion," said Lombardi after the Packers, led by Williams' record-tying heroics, stunned Cleveland 55-7 Sunday.

"When we've had an injury," Lombardi added, "we always play a little better."

The Packers had the injuries—starting running backs Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts are out—and they certainly played well, running up a 35-7 first-period margin and romping in from there.

The victory, spiced by Williams' record-matching two kickoff returns for touchdowns, kept the defending champion Packers atop the National Football League's Central Division.

Baltimore remained unbeaten and on top of the Coastal Division with a 49-7 romp over Atlanta, with Johnny Unitas providing a spectacular passing game and the Colts showing no letdown after the previous week's important victory over Green Bay.

Dallas moved three games in front in the Capitol Division standings after a 27-10 decision over New Orleans, while St. Louis maintained a precarious hold on the Century Division lead with a 14-14 tie with Pittsburgh.

Chicago humbled New York 34-7, Minnesota and Detroit battled to a 10-10 tie, Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 33-17 and Washington clipped San Francisco 31-28 in the other NFL games.

In the AFL, New York whipped Buffalo 20-10, Houston held off Denver 20-18, Kansas City romped over Boston 33-10 and San Diego shutout Miami 24-0.

"I couldn't believe it was happening," Williams said after returning kickoffs for touchdowns on runs of 87 and 85 yards for the Packers. His feat matched the league record of two kickoff returns for touchdowns set last year by Philadelphia's Timmy Brown.

And the 35 points run up by the Packers in the first period set a league record.

Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson filled in admirably for the ailing Pitts and Grabowski, Anderson scoring four touchdowns and Wilson rushing for 100 yards.

"The story of the game," Lombardi insisted, however, "was Bart Starr." Starr completed 14 of 21 passes for 249 yards and two touchdowns.

"I still don't know what happened," said the dazed Collier. "I think we wanted to win so badly we were too tight and couldn't play our game."

Colt quarterback Unitas played his game—perhaps even a little above his usual outstanding performance. He completed 17 of 20 throws for 370 yards and four touchdowns, the scores coming on plays covering 25, 11, 64 and 5 yards, in the rout of Atlanta.

End Frank Clarke, who lined up in the backfield on a tight-I formation, broke open the game for Dallas, racing 56 yards for a touchdown that put the Cowboys in front of New Orleans 17-0. They coasted in from there.

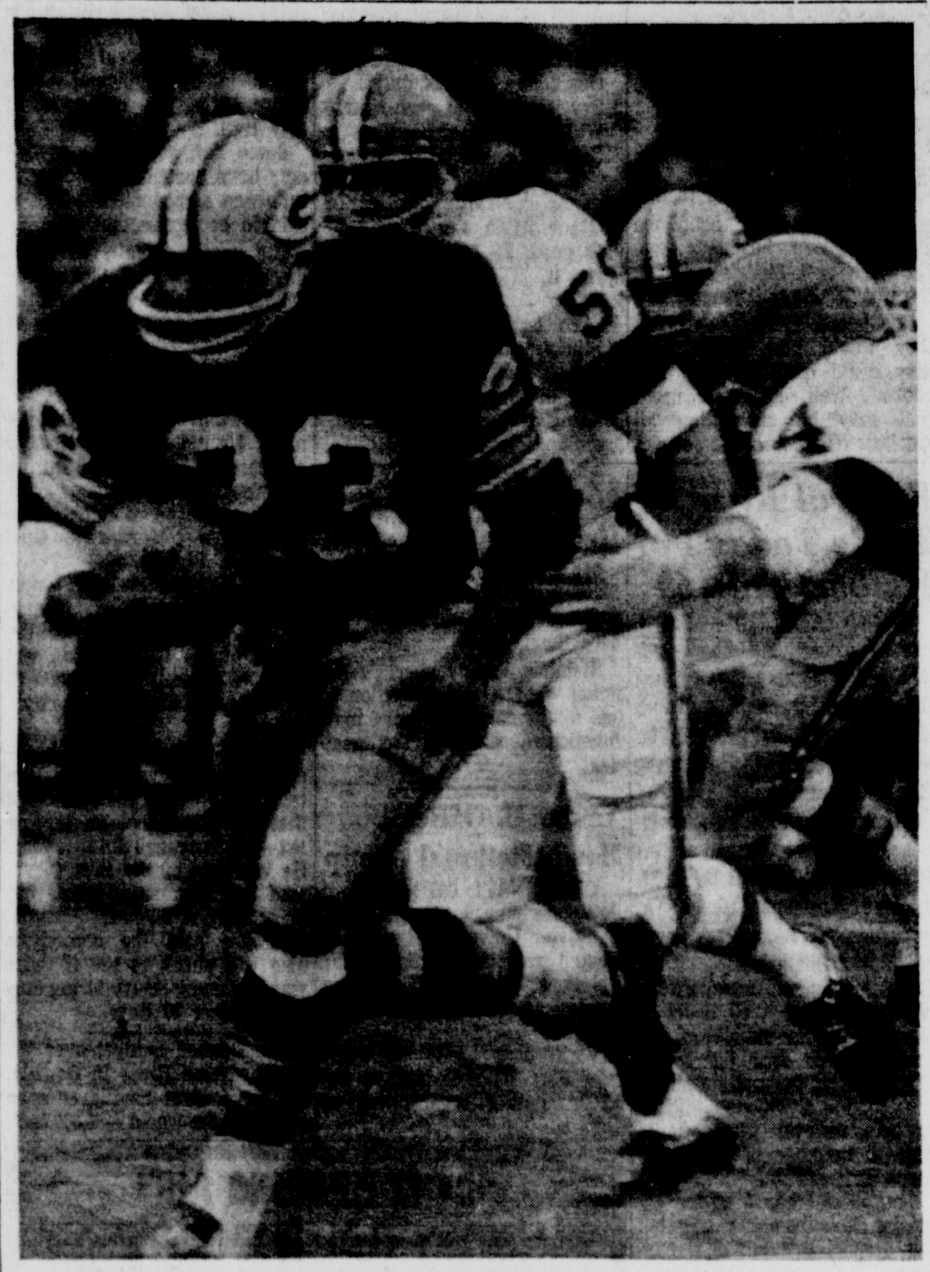
Pittsburgh, with quarterback Bill Nelsen calling the shots, moved 90 yards in nine plays in the last minute of play to gain the tie with St. Louis. Nelson capped it with a six-yard toss to Roy Jefferson. St. Louis, however, remained one-half game in front of Cleveland.

Detroit established a negative record, fumbling 11 times, in the tie with Minnesota, an offensive nightmare for both teams. Mel Farr carried 24 times for 197 yards for the Lions, who tied it on Wayne Walker's 12-yard field goal in the third period.

Sub quarterback Larry Rakestraw was the big gun for the Bears against stumbling New York. Rakestraw flipped scoring passes of 23, 18 and 6 yards and scored twice himself. Defensive tackle Frank Cornish set up three touchdowns by intercepting two Frank Tarkenton passes and recovering a fumble.

Sonny Jurgensen passed for three touchdowns, the last a 15-yarder to Jerry Smith with 7:01 remaining, in Washington's comeback against San Francisco. He completed 22 of 41 for 291 yards. The Redskins scored twice in the third period, both after fumble recoveries.

The Rams rushed in 20 points in the second quarter, breaking it open against Philadelphia. Bruce Gossett kicked field goals of 21, 12, 27 and 31 yards for the winners, and Roman Gabriel passed for two touchdowns.



THE GAME WAS A TRAVIS-TY. Travis Williams, Green Bay Packer back, gets away from Jim Copeland (64) of the Cleveland Browns in running the opening kickoff back 87 yards for a TD. Williams ran back another kickoff 85 yards for a TD in the first period as the Packers rolled up a 35-7 first quarter advantage en route to a 55-7 win. (UPI Telephoto)

Great Upsetter Oregon St. Will Not Go To Rose Bowl

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oregon State had its moments in Lafayette, Los Angeles and Corvallis. It will not have any in Pasadena.

The Pacific Eight's Rose Bowl representative will be decided Saturday when UCLA meets Southern California. The Beavers, now out of the race for the conference title, will simply have to console themselves with the thought that they tied one and beat the other.

Oregon State added a 3-0 victory over top-ranked Southern Cal last Saturday in Corvallis, Ore., to its tie with UCLA, then No. 2, in Los Angeles and its victory over Purdue, also No. 2 at the time, in Lafayette, Ind.

But the vagaries of the schedule and an early conference loss to Washington will keep the Beavers out of the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal will go if it beats UCLA. The Bruins will play if they win or tie.

A 30-yard field goal in the second quarter and a defense that let O.J. Simpson do everything but score got the Beavers the victory "that certainly ought to break us into the Top Ten," according to Coach Dee Andros.

Indiana looks more and more like the Big Ten Rose Bowl representative, coming from behind Saturday to beat Michigan State 14-13. The sixth-ranked Hoosiers scored late on a drive led by John Isenbarger and ended by his eight-yard touchdown run.

UCLA, No. 4, tuned up for its nationally televised battle with Southern Cal by pounding Washington 48-0. Gary Beban threw three touchdown passes and scored once himself. The USC-UCLA battle is on ABC-TV at 4 p.m., EST.

North Carolina State, rated third before the weekend, missed a golden opportunity to move up, bowing 13-8 to Penn State. Tennessee, No. 2, rolled over Tulane 35-14 behind Dewey Warren's passing and Walter Chadwick's running

Wyoming, No. 7, remained unbeaten, blasting New Mexico 42-6. Jerry DePoyster's four field goals in the game gave him a career total of 175, an NCAA record. Purdue, No. 5, beat Minnesota 41-12, staying tied with Indiana for the Big Ten lead with a 5-0 league mark.

Oklahoma, No. 8, took over the lead in the Big Eight race, burying Iowa State 52-14, as previously unbeaten Kansas fell to Colorado 12-8. Notre Dame, No. 9, crushed Pitt 38-0 with Terry Hanratty running for two touchdowns. Houston, No. 10, beat Memphis State 35-18.

Surprising Fort Marcy Wins Laurel International

When the 1½-mile turf race was over at Laurel race course Saturday, Fort Marcy had scored the biggest victory of his flip-flop career and earned $90,000 for owner Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable.

Ycaza, the Panamanian who reigns as the world's most suspended jockey, wound up as the only three-time winner of the International. What's more, he's never lost—having previously won in 1959 and 1960 aboard Bald Eagle.

Damascus, who had won 12 of 15 previous starts in 1967 on the way to certain Horse of the Year honors, failed by a nose in his first grass race but only after a stirring stretch duel which outdistanced seven foreign horses.

Tobin Bronze, the Australian representative who will now race in California under the silks of new American owners, finished 2½ lengths behind in third place. Canada's He's A Smoothie, the early leader of a slow pace, wound up fourth.

The rest of the field, in order, included Speed Symboli of Japan, Caseque Grise of France, Ribocco of England, Venezuela's Chateaubriand and another English entry, In Command.

"Manuel bugged me into letting him ride the horse when I really didn't think we had a shot at beating Damascus," Burch said. "He had more confidence than I did. I thought Damascus was unbeatable.

"I kept putting him off, since I had some other commitments. But now you can't imagine how glad I am that I picked this guy."

Fort Marcy was a flop as a 2-year-old, winning only one of 10 starts and $5,300.

OSU Edges Wisconsin For First Win At Home

By SAM DOBBINS
Associated Press Writer

The victory bell in Ohio Stadium finally chimed out good news for the first time since late last season.

Ohio State, in claiming a 17-15 victory over Wisconsin on a big Ohio college football Saturday, also raised its season mark to 4-3 and now stands 3-2 in the Big Ten.

Laurels also go to spirited Toledo, co-winner of the Mid-American Conference crown.

The same also goes for Ohio University, more or less.

Also deserving mention is Ohio Wesleyan, which has earned at least a share of the Ohio Conference title by virtue of a 23-21 victory over Mount Union.

It was a rain-soaked affair at Ohio Stadium as only 65,470 fans waded inside to watch the Buckeyes turn back a stubborn Wisconsin attack.

But rally-minded quarterback Bill Long scrambled for touchdowns twice and Gary Cairns kicked two extra points and converted a 19-yard field goal to pace the Buckeye attack.

The Badgers failed to capitalize on extra point plays after quarterback John Boyajian hurled two touchdown strikes, including a 51-yard bomb to Dick Schumitsch.

The Badgers rallied in the third period when Tom Schinke booted a 42-yard field goal and Boyajian connected on the long aerial with Schumitsch to take a 15-10 advantage.

But in the final period, Long guided Ohio State 87 yards in seven plays, including a 60-yard aerial to his favorite target, split end Billy Anders.

Thanks to Kent State, Ohio University, which plastered Bowling Green 31-7, shares the MAC crown with Toledo. Both were 5-1.

Ohio got back into the title race when Kent had to forfeit its early season 21-14 victory over the Bobcats because of an ineligible player.

The Bobcats, however, handed Toledo its only loss, 21-14.

Dick Conley scored two touchdowns to pace Ohio U. in manhandling the BeeGees while Toledo was pasting nonconference foe Northern Illinois 35-0.

Wesleyan then picked up two points when Mount Union's Phil Monroe fell down in the end zone for an intentional safety. After taking a punt, the Bishops started their winning drive.

Signal caller Dick Cromwell threw a 1-yard touchdown pass to end Bill Long as the gun sounded.

Dayton, which had not beaten Miami since 1959, won a 7-6 squeaker on a 1-yard touchdown plunge in the second quarter. Bob Thomas' point after was the margin of victory.

Ironmen Win Statistics, Lose Game

Norfolk and Orlando are top dogs in the northern and southern sections of the Continental Football League's Eastern Division following their respective victories last weekend over Hartford and Charleston.

The Neptunes downed Hartford 43-21 as Norfolk's Don Henning three four touchdown passes of 27, 17, 47 and nine yards.

Orlando scored a 28-21 victory over underdog Charleston. The Panthers broke a 14-14 tie in the third quarter when Bill Jenkins blocked a punt and linebacker Bob Green picked up the ball to score with a seven-yard run.

Wheeling won everything but its game against Montreal. Although the Ironmen were defeated 17-14, they racked up 352 yards in total offense compared to Montreal's 195 yards.

Gino Berretta broke a 14-14 tie with only nine seconds left in the game by booting a 22-yard field goal.

NL Meets To Consider Expansion

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League, fearful of being shutout in the rich Northwest territory, will hold a special expansion meeting today.

President Warren Giles of the National League called the meeting shortly after the American League shifted the Kansas City A's to Oakland beginning next season and voted to expand to 12 teams by 1969, if possible.

The American League awarded franchises to Seattle and to a new group in Kansas City.

Giles, in announcing the special meeting earlier this month, said representatives of cities seeking franchises will not be invited to attend.

"While the National League has applications from several cities for membership, this will not be an appropriate meeting to hear representatives of those cities and none will be invited to appear," said Giles.

The National League virtually was forced into having the meeting in view of American League action last month in order to prepare its case for expansion at the winter meetings in Mexico City Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

During the baseball confab in Mexico City, Commissioner William Eckert is expected to call a joint session involving expansion.

Although Giles has not announced exactly what will be discussed at today's meeting, it is a known fact that the National League wants the Seattle territory.

Palmer, U.S. Capture World Cup Golf Prizes

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the easy-going golf master from Latrobe, Pa., was off to new conquests today after capturing his first World Cup individual prize in six tries as cowinner of the American team.

Jack Nicklaus, 27-year-old teammate from Columbus, Ohio, came in second as individual winner plus coholder of the team trophy by the United States for the sixth time.

"I owe my partner a great deal for getting those clubs right," said Palmer.

The two U.S. stars, who outstripped a field of 80 golfers from 40 nations, territories and regions, fired a combined 567 for the two rounds, 13 strokes below their nearest competitors, southpaw Bob Charles and Walter Godfrey of New Zealand.

Palmer, who nursed an eye scratched by sand from a trap shot for the last two days, fired a five-under par 67 in the final round for a total of 276.

Nicklaus and Charles tied for second place, five strokes behind Palmer.

Individual and national prestige was the real stake in the World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup.

Palmer got only $1,000 for the best individual score and shared $2,000 with Nicklaus for the team victory. Nicklaus and Charles split $500 for second place while Tony Cerda of Argentina won $400 for his 284 and third place, and Ted Makalena of Hawaii, fourth with 285, got $200.

The first team was all seniors.

Chiefs, Chargers Win, Gain

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders have found out that idleness won't win them any American Football League titles, not with the San Diego Chargers and Kansas City Chiefs hard at work.

Playing the role of the idle rich Sunday only made the Raiders poorer as the Chargers and Chiefs each rolled to victory and narrowed the gap that separates them from leading Oakland in the Western Division.

The Chargers, 6-1-1, stumped Miami 24-0 and the Chiefs, 6-3, hammered Boston 33-10 while the Raiders relaxed with an open date and a 7-1 mark.

The New York Jets had to work hard to retain their one-game lead over Houston in the Eastern Division with a 20-10 victory over Buffalo while the Oilers struggled by lowly Denver 20-18 in the other AFL games.

In the National League, Green Bay walloped Cleveland 55-7, Baltimore ran over Atlanta 49-7, Dallas scored over New Orleans 27-10, Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 33-17, Washington outscored San Francisco, 31-28, Chicago routed the New York Giants 34-7, and Detroit and Minnesota tied 10-10 as did St. Louis and Pittsburgh 14-14.

San Diego, off last week, also suffered the effects of idleness against the Dolphins as the high-powered Chargers managed only a 7-0 lead into the fourth quarter before blowing open the game.

"Two weeks layoff was too much," said Charger Coach Sid Gillman. "I think we will be a better football team from here on out."

"We were sluggish and our timing was off," agreed quarterback John Hadl, who pitched for two touchdowns, but had four other passes intercepted. "We might have been looking ahead to Kansas City. I'm just glad we didn't play the Chiefs today."

The Chargers and Chiefs collide Sunday while Oakland, if it can avoid rustiness, hosts weak and Miami and can pick up ground on at least one challenger with a victory.

The Chiefs readied themselves for the San Diego clash after spotting Boston a 10-7 lead and then crushing the Patriots for their third straight romp in a final drive to rain the AFL title they won last year.

The Chiefs' Len Dawson pitched for two touchdowns and defensive back Emitt Thomas returned an intercepted pass 57 yards for another score and intercepted a second pass and recovered a fumble to set up a TD and a field goal.

"We're in good shape," Coach Hank Stram of Kansas City said. "We play both Oakland and San Diego again and they play each other once. We just have to keep winning."

The loss all but eliminated the Patriots in the East race, and the New York victory did the same to Buffalo as each suffered its sixth defeat.

The Jets, meanwhile, won for the sixth time in nine games in a contest dominated by the defenses which blocked several field goal attempts, intercepted four passes and recovered one fumble.

Joe Namath threw for one touchdown and set up two field goals by Jim Turner, but a 41-yard TD run in the final period by cornerback Johnny Sample with a pass deflected by teammate Ralph Baker proved to be the clincher.

The Bills needed an interception by George Saimes and two roughing the kicker penalties to get its TD and a 10-10 tie at the half.

Houston, noted for its defense, won its firht game with an unusual 20-point outburst in the first three periods on a scoring pass by Pete Beathard and the runing of Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell.

But the Broncos, able to cross midfield only twice and trailing 20-0, gave the Oilers a scare as Steve Tensi tossed two TD passes and Bob Humphreys kicked a 43-yard field goal in less than six minutes during the final quarter before the Houston defense regrouped.

NL Meets To Consider Expansion

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League, fearful of being shutout in the rich Northwest territory, will hold a special expansion meeting today.

President Warren Giles of the National League called the meeting shortly after the American League shifted the Kansas City A's to Oakland beginning next season and voted to expand to 12 teams by 1969, if possible.

The American League awarded franchises to Seattle and to a new group in Kansas City.

Giles, in announcing the special meeting earlier this month, said representatives of cities seeking franchises will not be invited to attend.

"While the National League has applications from several cities for membership, this will not be an appropriate meeting to hear representatives of those cities and none will be invited to appear," said Giles.

The National League virtually was forced into having the meeting in view of American League action last month in order to prepare its case for expansion at the winter meetings in Mexico City Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

During the baseball confab in Mexico City, Commissioner William Eckert is expected to call a joint session involving expansion.

Although Giles has not announced exactly what will be discussed at today's meeting, it is a known fact that the National League wants the Seattle territory.

Palmer, U.S. Capture World Cup Golf Prizes

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the easy-going golf master from Latrobe, Pa., was off to new conquests today after capturing his first World Cup individual prize in six tries as cowinner of the American team.

Jack Nicklaus, 27-year-old teammate from Columbus, Ohio, came in second as individual winner plus coholder of the team trophy by the United States for the sixth time.

"I owe my partner a great deal for getting those clubs right," said Palmer.

"I came here to help win the team championship," added Nicklaus. "If I couldn't win the individual prize I'm glad Arnold did."

The two U.S. stars, who outstripped a field of 80 golfers from 40 nations, territories and regions, fired a combined 567 for the two rounds, 13 strokes below their nearest competitors, southpaw Bob Charles and Walter Godfrey of New Zealand.

Palmer, who nursed an eye scratched by sand from a trap shot for the last two days, fired a five-under par 67 in the final round for a total of 276.

Nicklaus and Charles tied for second place, five strokes behind Palmer.

Individual and national prestige was the real stake in the World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup.

Palmer got only $1,000 for the best individual score and shared $2,000 with Nicklaus for the team victory. Nicklaus and Charles split $500 for second place while Tony Cerda of Argentina won $400 for his 284 and third place, and Ted Makalena of Hawaii, fourth with 285, got $200.

Stamps In The News

Next year U.S. postage stamps will commemorate a variety of anniversaries, events and people—from Walt Disney to law enforcement — much to the delight of collectors all over the world.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien made public seven of the commemoratives which will be issued in 1968. This is nearly half of the total amount, since the United States puts out approximately 15 such stamps each year.

The 1968 stamps will commemorate:

HemisFair '68 — the international exposition to take place in San Antonio, Tex., from April 6 to Oct. 6. The occasion is San Antonio's 250th anniversary.

Sesquicentennial of Illinois statehood — to be issued Feb. 12 at Shawneetown, the state's oldest post office in continuous operation. There no doubt will be a tie-in with Lincoln's birthday.

Fiftieth anniversary of air mail service — to honor the anniversary of the first regularly scheduled air mail service in the U.S., begun on May 15, 1918, on a Washington - Philadelphia-New York route.

Walt Disney—a tribute to the creator of Mickey Mouse and many other beloved cartoon characters. Disney, who died last Dec. 15, was the recipients of 700 honors and awards including the Presidential Freedom Medal.

Law Enforcement — this stamp will publicize the efforts of law enforcement authorities at local levels and encourage the respect for law and order nationwide.

One subject each in the American Painting series and the American Folklore series.

With the exception of the Illinois stamp, dates and places of issuance have not as yet been decided. All the commemoratives will be in the first-class mail rate, except for the air mail anniversary which, naturally, will be an air mail.

THE BOY SCOUTS of Ghana celebrated their 50th anniversary this year and a special set of three stamps has been issued by that country to honor the occasion. One stamp shows a camp fire and two Scouts against a background of a Boy Scout symbol. Another depicts a Boy Scout with knapsack on his back during a hike. The third bears a portrait of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement.

HUNGARY has issued eight new stamps dedicated to operas. Depicted are scenes from the following: "Prince Igor" (Act II) by Borodin, ""Der Freischutz" (Act III) by Weber, "The Magic Flute" (Act II) by Mozart, ""Duke Bluebeard's Castle" by Bela Bartok, "Carmen" (Act II) by Bizet, ""Don Carlos" (Act I) by Verdi, ""Tannhauser" (Act I) by Wagner, "Hunyadi Laszlo" (Act III) by Ferenc Erkel.

LEBANON has issued six new stamps honoring the 22nd anniversary of the United Nations and the San Francisco Pact of 1945. Three of the stamps illustrate the Veterans War Memorial Building. The other three show U.N. and Lebanon flags.

Stamps In The News

Next year U.S. postage stamps will commemorate a variety of anniversaries, events and people—from Walt Disney to law enforcement — much to the delight of collectors all over the world.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien made public seven of the commemoratives which will be issued in 1968. This is nearly half of the total amount, since the United States puts out approximately 15 such stamps each year.

The 1968 stamps will commemorate:

HemisFair '68 — the international exposition to take place in San Antonio, Tex., from April 6 to Oct. 6. The occasion is San Antonio's 250th anniversary.

Sesquicentennial of Illinois statehood — to be issued Feb. 12 at Shawneetown, the state's oldest post office in continuous operation. There no doubt will be a tie-in with Lincoln's birthday.

Fiftieth anniversary of air mail service — to honor the anniversary of the first regularly scheduled air mail service in the U.S., begun on May 15, 1918, on a Washington - Philadelphia-New York route.

Walt Disney—a tribute to the creator of Mickey Mouse and many other beloved cartoon characters. Disney, who died last Dec. 15, was the recipients of 700 honors and awards including the Presidential Freedom Medal.

Law Enforcement — this stamp will publicize the efforts of law enforcement authorities at local levels and encourage the respect for law and order nationwide.

One subject each in the American Painting series and the American Folklore series.

With the exception of the Illinois stamp, dates and places of issuance have not as yet been decided. All the commemoratives will be in the first-class mail rate, except for the air mail anniversary which, naturally, will be an air mail.

THE BOY SCOUTS of Ghana celebrated their 50th anniversary this year and a special set of three stamps has been issued by that country to honor the occasion. One stamp shows a camp fire and two Scouts against a background of a Boy Scout symbol. Another depicts a Boy Scout with knapsack on his back during a hike. The third bears a portrait of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement.

HUNGARY has issued eight new stamps dedicated to operas. Depicted are scenes from the following: "Prince Igor" (Act II) by Borodin, "'Der Freischutz" (Act III) by Weber, "The Magic Flute" (Act II) by Mozart, "'Duke Bluebeard's Castle" by Bela Bartok, "Carmen" (Act II) by Bizet, "'Don Carlos" (Act I) by Verdi, "'Tannhauser" (Act I) by Wagner, "Hunyadi Laszlo" (Act III) by Ferenc Erkel.

LEBANON has issued six new stamps honoring the 22nd anniversary of the United Nations and the San Francisco Pact of 1945. Three of the stamps illustrate the Veterans War Memorial Building. The other three show U.N. and Lebanon flags.

Writers Guild Protests

The TV-radio branch of the Writers Guild of America has decided it should try to do something about the sad state of TV. Richard Powell, president of the TV-radio branch, recently mailed a query to the 900 active and 500 associate members asking them if they thought it the proper business of the Guild to concern itself with the quality of TV. He received 531 responses.

Hal Humphrey

"Of those 531, there were 457 who said yes, 58 voted no and 16 didn't answer the question. That's about 8-1 in favor of our doing something," reports Powell.

-:-

THE TENOR of most of the yes replies was that some kind of action on the writers' part was long overdue. Many of them felt that whatever they did, it would be like fighting city hall, but said they should at least try, and then could ease their own consciences.

"For better or worse, TV is determining the culture in this country, so I believe the people in it should do something about it. Everyone acts as if TV's current manner of operation is engraved in marble, that it's beyond our control now. I would hope this isn't true," Powell says.

Just what Powell and his writers will do, he is not sure. A committee is being formed to study the situation, and it will recommend some type of action.

"MAYBE WE'LL first turn out a white paper on TV from the inside point of view," says Powell.

"Certainly enough of our members have been on the inside to know what's wrong and how it happened historically. Such a white paper might force the industry to defend itself and even make a few changes."

Powell has no illusions about going to the networks with the writers' plea for TV to strive for improving the quality of programs. The networks, as he says, are a monopoly making money and for that reason don't feel they have to change.

Powell is not trying to legislate quality, but has taken the view that TV is regressing and that the men who contribute the words are responsible if they at least don't let their unhappiness with this state of affairs become known.

"The attitude has been expressed at Guild meetings that we are merely tailors cutting someone else's cloth to measure, and we would be much happier should we cease to think of ourselves as writers," Powell comments, "but I would assume this is not the majority attitude of TV writers.

"A WRITER can't write anything to please himself today, because there's no market in TV," Powell adds.

"Instead he has to write for the 'Beverly Hillbillies' Of course, there are good and bad writers, but you can't tell one from the other on TV today because it doesn't matter. Nothing happens, nobody moves, nothing changes in most of the series."

One writer replying to Powell's Guild letter suggested an award be given to the writer of the best script that didn't get on the air. This isn't a bad idea. It would be a trenchant criticism of a medium whose executives are constantly claiming there isn't enough talent to fill up all the hours of the day that TV is on.

SINCE THE PLAY is the thing, we're told, it certainly is within the province of the writers to try to exert some control. The frightening question is, are they too late? Has TV become such a big machine that even the executives at the head of it no longer know how to stop it, much less the writers?

At any rate, let the TV-radio branch of the Writers Guild of America bring out its white paper. It can't hurt anything, and there's a chance it might help- if only to let the public know how it's being suckered by a mediocrity that doesn't have to be that mediocre.

Ohio Pen Officials Rule Death Suicide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary officials have ruled suicide in the death of Lester E. Swiger, 30, found hanging from a shredded blanket in his cell Friday night.

Antipoverty Bill Due For House Action

supporters of the administration's antipoverty program plan to fight for the full $2.06 billion requested instead of seeking a compromise to head off a deep cut proposed by Republicans.

A GOP amendment to slash the program by $660 million is slated for action today as the House resumes consideration of the controversial legislation.

A plan by some Democrats who back the bill to agree to a lesser cut in hopes of defeating the Republican move was abandoned after a series of weekend strategy huddles and after President Johnson's fighting denunciation of "standpatters and nay-sayers."

In a New York speech Thursday night, Johnson blasted the "old coalition" he said has always opposed reform and is now using the Vietnam war as an excuse to oppose his domestic program.

The decision to stand by the administration request was taken even though the Republican bid to cut the total spending to $1.4 billion is likely to succeed. The economy-minded House has already indicated in an earlier vote it thinks the Office of Economic Opportunity can get along with as little as $1.2 billion.

The reason House Democrats can view such a potential defeat calmly is that the Senate has already passed a bill authorizing $2.2 billion and an eventual compromise bill could go as high as $1.8 billion no matter what the House decides.

The money amendment is only the opening of the Republican fight to rewrite the antipoverty bill. The GOP has several dozen other proposals ready to go and final action on the bill is not expected until midweek.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., who proposed the cut to $1.4 billion, said if the House goes along with the rest of the GOP amendments it will have created a program that would generate $3 billion to fight poverty through additional state, local and private contributions.

The GOP bill would end some programs, put others under different administration and enlarge the role of private industry in job training.

Democratic strategists feel confident they can defeat most, if not all, of the GOP amendments.

The House bill also would require Community Action agencies to be units of a state or local government. Of the 1,050 such agencies now in operation, 80 per cent are private, nonprofit organizations.

New Parley Set In Cincinnati's Transit Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Negotiators for the two opposing sides in Cincinnati's 13 - day old transit strike sit down again at the bargaining table today.

Talks between representatives of the Cincinnati Transit Co. and the Amalgamated Transit Workers Union have been marked by little success, officials said, but a councilman thinks their status should be made public.

Charles P. Taft, a Charterite councilman, suggested Sunday that the public should be notified of disputed issues.

But Ed Windes, a federal mediator, said it is traditional that results of negotiating sessions are confidential and "the parties have agreed not to release anv information."

No mediation sessions have been held since last Wednesday.

The work stoppage began Oct. 31 at midnight after the contracts of 800 bus drivers and maintenance men expired.

Hernando Cortes, the Spanish conqueror of Mexico, introduced branding to North America. He marked his cattle and horses with three Christian crosses. The practice spread throughout the fenceless West, where cattle roamed free.

Out Of The Air

Writers Guild Protests

The TV-radio branch of the Writers Guild of America has decided it should try to do something about the sad state of TV. Richard Powell, president of the TV-radio branch, recently mailed a query to the 900 active and 500 associate members asking them if they thought it the proper business of the Guild to concern itself with the quality of TV. He received 531 responses.

Hal Humphrey

"Of those 531, there were 457 who said yes, 58 voted no and 16 didn't answer the question. That's about 8-1 in favor of our doing something," reports Powell.

-:-

THE TENOR of most of the yes replies was that some kind of action on the writers' part was long overdue. Many of them felt that whatever they did, it would be like fighting city hall, but said they should at least try, and then could ease their own consciences.

"For better or worse, TV is determining the culture in this country, so I believe the people in it should do something about it. Everyone acts as if TV's current manner of operation is engraved in marble, that it's beyond our control now. I would hope this isn't true," Powell says.

Just what Powell and his writers will do, he is not sure. A committee is being formed to study the situation, and it will recommend some type of action.

"MAYBE WE'LL first turn out a white paper on TV from the inside point of view," says Powell.

"Certainly enough of our members have been on the inside to know what's wrong and how it happened historically. Such a white paper might force the industry to defend itself and even make a few changes."

Powell has no illusions about going to the networks with the writers' plea for TV to strive for improving the quality of programs. The networks, as he says, are a monopoly making money and for that reason don't feel they have to change.

SOME of the "no" voters on the Guild's concerning itself in the matter of TV quality pointed out that quality is a subjective matter and can't be "legislated."

Powell is not trying to legislate quality, but has taken the view that TV is regressing and that the men who contribute the words are responsible if they at least don't let their unhappiness with this state of affairs become known.

"The attitude has been expressed at Guild meetings that we are merely tailors cutting someone else's cloth to measure, and we would be much happier should we cease to think of ourselves as writers," Powell comments, "but I would assume this is not the majority attitude of TV writers.

"A WRITER can't write anything to please himself today, because there's no market in TV," Powell adds.

"Instead he has to write for the 'Beverly Hillbillies' Of course, there are good and bad writers, but you can't tell one from the other on TV today because it doesn't matter. Nothing happens, nobody moves, nothing changes in most of the series."

One writer replying to Powell's Guild letter suggested an award be given to the writer of the best script that didn't get on the air. This isn't a bad idea. It would be a trenchant criticism of a medium whose executives are constantly claiming there isn't enough talent to fill up all the hours of the day that TV is on.

SINCE THE PLAY is the thing, we're told, it certainly is within the province of the writers to try to exert some control. The frightening question is, are they too late? Has TV become such a big machine that even the executives at the head of it no longer know how to stop it, much less the writers?

At any rate, let the TV-radio branch of the Writers Guild of America bring out its white paper. It can't hurt anything, and there's a chance it might help- if only to let the public know how it's being suckered by a mediocrity that doesn't have to be that mediocre.

Antipoverty Bill Due For House Action

supporters of the administration's antipoverty program plan to fight for the full $2.06 billion requested instead of seeking a compromise to head off a deep cut proposed by Republicans.

A GOP amendment to slash the program by $660 million is slated for action today as the House resumes consideration of the controversial legislation.

A plan by some Democrats who back the bill to agree to a lesser cut in hopes of defeating the Republican move was abandoned after a series of weekend strategy huddles and after President Johnson's fighting denunciation of "standpatters and nay-sayers."

In a New York speech Thursday night, Johnson blasted the "old coalition" he said has always opposed reform and is now using the Vietnam war as an excuse to oppose his domestic program.

The decision to stand by the administration request was taken even though the Republican bid to cut the total spending to $1.4 billion is likely to succeed. The economy-minded House has already indicated in an earlier vote it thinks the Office of Economic Opportunity can get along with as little as $1.2 billion.

The reason House Democrats can view such a potential defeat calmly is that the Senate has already passed a bill authorizing $2.2 billion and an eventual compromise bill could go as high as $1.8 billion no matter what the House decides.

The money amendment is only the opening of the Republican fight to rewrite the antipoverty bill. The GOP has several dozen other proposals ready to go and final action on the bill is not expected until midweek.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., who proposed the cut to $1.4 billion, said if the House goes along with the rest of the GOP amendments it will have created a program that would generate $3 billion to fight poverty through additional state, local and private contributions.

The GOP bill would end some programs, put others under different administration and enlarge the role of private industry in job training.

Democratic strategists feel confident they can defeat most, if not all, of the GOP amendments.

The House bill also would require Community Action agencies to be units of a state or local government. Of the 1,050 such agencies now in operation, 80 per cent are private, nonprofit organizations.

New Parley Set In Cincinnati's Transit Strike

Talks between representatives of the Cincinnati Transit Co. and the Amalgamated Transit Workers Union have been marked by little success, officials said, but a councilman thinks their status should be made public.

Charles P. Taft, a Charterite councilman, suggested Sunday that the public should be notified of disputed issues.

But Ed Windes, a federal mediator, said it is traditional that results of negotiating sessions are confidential and "the parties have agreed not to release anv information."

No mediation sessions have been held since last Wednesday.

The work stoppage began Oct. 31 at midnight after the contracts of 800 bus drivers and maintenance men expired.

Hernando Cortes, the Spanish conqueror of Mexico, introduced branding to North America. He marked his cattle and horses with three Christian crosses. The practice spread throughout the fenceless West, where cattle roamed free.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE UNITED NATIONS

QUESTION: What nations belonged originally to the United Nations?

ANSWER: Movements to organize such a group as the United Nations were first begun in September 1939. But it was not until 1945 that the U.N. had been organized and its charter signed. The charter members are named in our drawing. Later, a number of other nations joined the organization. The U.N. is not a world government, but a meeting place where nations can try to settle their problems through peaceful study and discussion; it has kept some dangerous disputes from turning into warfare. The handsome U.N. headquarters buildings, completed in 1952, are located on the New York City riverfront. Many young people enjoy taking tours through these buildings when great world issues are being debated. One of the U.N.'s activities is UNICEF, The United Nation's Children's Fund, through which many of the world's needy mothers and children obtain food and medical care. The only U.N. agency to receive contributions from individuals, UNICEF was awarded the Nobel peace prize in 1965.
